Who Will Make Cinnamon Rolls?

Dining hall students purchased this beautiful vase, which is being presented, by the LSP host and hostess, Jim Ridgeway and Mary Wing, for Mrs. Manley in appreciation of her efforts on their behalf.

Freshmen Beware!

By MARLENE BUESS

Part of this year's freshman initiation, which will be completed November 4, is planned with the idea of developing closer public relations between N.N.C. and the people of Nampa, said John Finkbeiner, sophomore class president.

In revealing a few of the plans the sophomores have in store for the freshmen, John explained that in addition to working on the campus, the freshmen will work on community projects such as painting park houses and roofing swimming pool bath houses and spectator stands.

"The girls will be separated from the boys," said John. Freshman girls will rake leaves on the campus. The boys will be marched three abreast to the places where they have been assigned to work. They will be required to sing the school song all the way, so they had better know it, warned John.

As in the past, each freshman will be required to put in two hours work, either Friday afternoon or Saturday morning. Roll will be taken and those who do not cooperate will be penalized.

Freshmen must wear their initiation hats every Monday and Wednesday until Thanksgiving

Stag Night

The annual Men's Club Stag Night will be held in the gym Oct. 22, at 8:00 p.m.

Hary Willianson, program chairman, has well organized plans and his committees are hard at work. The committee heads are; refreshments, Jim Martin; publicity, Winton Miller; and sanitary council, Marsh Encarnation. Willianson, himself, will

Sophomores Win Tug-of-War

With true college spirit the sophomores claimed the championship in the annual tug-of-war. After just a few minutes of muscle strain, the rope wavered over the irrigation ditch in Kurtz Park, and slowly the freshmen weakened to the edge of the water. One by one the fifteen frosh were pulled through the muddy waters, and the sophomores reigned victorious.

head the entertainment committee.

The main event of the evening will be the judging of the beard and sweater contests. The man with the longest and best trimmed beard will win a sweater and the man with the brightest sweater will win a shirt.

Other events for the evening will be films, boxing, wrestling, and some skits or readings.

It will be well worth your while, men, to remember the night. Mark it on your calendar and come out and join the fun.

Mrs. Manley Resigns

By MARION ANDERSON

After 11 years on the kitchen staff of Northwest Nazarene College, Mrs. Earl Manley resigned as head cook on September 30. She stated that, although she enjoyed her work, she needed a change. Her plan for the immediate future is relaxation.

Dr. Riley, in an interview with this Crusader reporter reflected student feeling — "We are very sorry to have Mrs. Manley leave her position as head cook. She and her family have been here many years and we expect her to remain a part of campus life. We will miss her efficiency and genial personality." For her willing assistance with organization refreshments and kindness to student employees, Mrs. Manley has the appreciation of the student body.

Mrs. Manley expressed her regret to leave. "I have learned to love the students. I'll miss them and still be interested in them." She also spoke with appreciation for the rest of her staff.

Mrs. Manley has earned a vacation for, in addition to the heavy responsibilities of six years as head cook, she has spent the last eight summers cooking for church summer camps.

Rev. and Mrs. Earl Manley moved to Nampa from Colorado June 27, 1943. Their eight children have at some time attended N.N.C. or College High. They are: Mrs. Mary Reed, Nampa; Rev. Robert Manley, Pastor of the Nazarene Church in Union Missouri; Mrs. Earlene Dunn, Olympia, Washington; Mrs. Doris Holcomb, Seattle, Washington; Mrs. Wilma Edgin, Salinas, California; Miss Ardis Manley a senior at N.N.C.; Edward Manley, a student at the University of Idaho and Billy Manley, a freshman at College High School.

Prof. Hayes Johnson Ill

Drs. Henry and Gerald Wesche report there will be no diagnosis made until after tests have been taken tomorrow.

Mr. Johnson was taken to the hospital Wednesday morning.

The student body joins me in wishing Mr. Johnson a speedy recovery.

It's Really Up To You

Your student council has been trying to find the answer to a major question for quite some time. Will the high school vote in college student body elections? The answer to this question must originate in the council. A part of each meeting has been devoted to discussion of the problem. Recommendations, by students and the Administrative Council, have been considered.

Just as we do not agree, in this matter, as a student body, they did not agree, as members of the student council. Each representative expressed his honest opinion and followed through by voting that way.

Whether he was for, or against, College High School voting, each member, as your representative, voted as he thought you would want him to.

Last Wednesday evening your council passed a recommendation. This will be submitted to the Administrative Council for approval. Then it will be presented to the student body, for the final decision.

When that time comes, express your appreciation, for the student council's efforts, by voting. Benefit yourself, and others, by voting for what you believe.

You may find a complete account of the issue and recommendation in another story on this page.

LOOKING AROUND with MARVIN BRUNSON

Beanies, Beards, and the Bench

Fads of a Fleeting Moment

The first glance at the campus now gives the impression that Spring is here and the leaves are turning green. But a closer look shows this is an error. Rather it is the season for the campus to blossom with Frosh-green beanies. Note the novel effect of the custom crease in some.

Fall weather is here. And as the air gets colder, everyone is making preparation for winter. Bears are gaining weight, birds are going south, and NNC men are growing beards. Sometimes you must look closely to see them — but after all, we've only been trying a week.

Fortunately these are only passing fancies. I hear that the beanie season lasts only till the Turkey Bowl game. And the beards — well, they're hair today and gone next week after Stag Night. But the bench is here to stay.

Just the same, it should be a passing fancy with us all. No one should be on it to stay. Someone has said that the crime is not in getting on the bench, but in staying on it.

Let's keep our academic standards high enough so that staying off the bench will be in style and not a seasonal fad - like beanies and beards.

Trojan Talk

Everybody is noticing the improvement in front of the high school building. The new walk will be an inspiration to the high school as well as a benefit to the campus.

High school students are proud of their new milk dispensing machine. It was installed in the building Monday, September 26. A student may deposit a nickel in the machine and receive a bottle of milk. He has the choice of either regular or chocolate milk. Actually the student gets the milk for three cents a half-pint, if he returns the bottle.

"You Don't Enjoy Until You Participate"

By JOE MICHEL

I came across this statement in an education class, the other day, and the more I think about it, the more I believe it. Have you ever enjoyed a meal before you had partaken of the food? I doubt it very much.

The same thing applies at N.N.C. One cannot enjoy the college until he has participated in what it has to offer. First, one can hardly enjoy studying until he has sat down and really tried to complete an assignment, takes a test and receives an A or B. He enjoys that grade and realizes that he has participated, and worked to get that mark.

Second, you can't enjoy the social activities on the campus until you have participated in them and tried to make them better.

Finally, you cannot enjoy the spiritual life and atmosphere until you have participated. You can't enjoy the Christian way of life until you've given your heart to God and become a Christian. The same thing goes for church and C.W.B.

You may say, "My I.Q. is not more than average", "I'm not an extrovert", and "I don't have any talent or a thing which I could contribute to society." But I will say, in the words of Emerson, "The power which resides in you is new in nature, and none but you knows what that is which you can do, nor do you know until you have tried."

So — what do you say — let's try to find out what we can do and then do it! College life will be far more enjoyable, I'm sure.

Student Council Passes Constitutional Amendment

On Wednesday evening the Student Council passed a very important article to be inserted in the constitution. The new article reads as follows: Only members of the Associated Students who are enrolled in the college of liberal arts, who are graduates and specials shall be allowed to participate in the voting of the Associated Students. Only mem-

Mobile X-Ray Unit Oct. 17 and 18

Every student at N.N.C. will have a chance to get a free chest x-ray on October 17 and 18, thanks to the Idaho TB Association and Christmas seals. The arrangements were made through Dean Hungerford — a former student of N.N.C. and the field representative of the Idaho Association.

The x-rays will be read for pulmonary TB, but also for evidences of heart conditions and other irregularities of the chest region. Each person taking advantage of the free x-ray will be notified of the results.

The unit will be located near Morrison Hall on Schley St. and will be open from 12 noon to 3 p.m. on October 17 and from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. on October 18. The N.N.C. business club will furnish typists to help in making out the reports.

Mrs. Waller in Vesper Concert

Mrs. Delores Waller will be featured in the first faculty concert of the school year, Sunday, October 16, at 4:00 p.m.

This is to be a vesper concert and will be presented in the college chapel. Everyone is invited.

Her selections will be:

1. Trumpet Voluntary, by Henry Purcell.
2. Basse it Dessus de Trompette, by Cleramboult.
3. Iris Sonata in D Minor, by Bach.
4. When Jesus Hung Upon the Cross, by Scheidt.
5. In Dulci Jubila, by Widor, Comtable, Caesar, Frank, Cor-tege and Iitanie, and De Pre.

said John. There will be a penalty for those failing to do so. There will also be a penalty for freshmen who have not purchased their hats by this afternoon.

bers of the Associated Students who are of high school classification shall participate in high school voting.

Before this article will take effect it must be approved by the Administrative Council and if approved it will then be presented to the entire student body for approval. We urge you to become acquainted with this controversial subject and express your opinions.

CRUSADERS ANNOUNCE 1955-56 BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

A 28-game basketball schedule for the 1955-56 season was announced today by Coach Orrin Hills.

Sixteen of the games will be played in Nampa with 13 scheduled for Central gym and three booked for the NNC gym.

One of the highlights of the schedule will come off early in the season when the Crusaders meet their traditional rivals, the College of Idaho Coyotes, in a two-game series Dec. 6 and 9. Last season the Coyotes edged out a two-point victory over the Crusaders on a last-second basket by R. C. Owens.

This year's Crusader squad will be the first NNC basketball team to compete in Inter-mountain Collegiate Athletic Conference competition. Other teams in the conference are Boise Junior College, Ricks, College of Southern Utah, Snow, Weber, Dixie and Car-bon.

Fourteen of the NNC games are conference contests with the Crusaders meeting each league member twice.

The annual Tip-Off celebrations, at which a queen and a court of royal princesses are crowned, is scheduled for the Jan. 21 game with St. Martin's.

- The schedule:
- Nov. 26 — Westminster, here.
 - Dec. 3 — Eastern Oregon College of Education, here.
 - Dec. 6 — College of Idaho, here.
 - Dec. 9 — College of Idaho, there.
 - Dec. 10 — Whitman, there.
 - Dec. 15 — Oregon Tech., here.
 - Dec. 16 — Ricks, there.
 - Dec. 17 — Ricks, there.
 - Dec. 20 — Eastern Oregon College of Education, there.
 - Jan. 6 — Carbon, here.
 - Jan. 7 — Snow, here.
 - Jan. 13 — Dixie, here.
 - Jan. 14 — College of Southern Utah, here.
 - Jan. 20 — St. Martin's, here.
 - Jan. 21 — St. Martin's, here.
 - Jan. 27 — Boise Junior College, there.
 - Jan. 28 — Boise Junior College, here.

 - Feb. 11 — College of Southern Utah, there.
 - Feb. 13 — Carbon, there.
 - Feb. 14 — Snow, there.
 - Feb. 20 — Seattle Pacific, here.
 - Feb. 23 — Whitman, here.
 - Feb. 24 — Weber, there.
 - Feb. 24 — Westminster, there.

LSPs Lose One

The luck of the LSPs came to a quick and decisive end as they suffered their first set-back of the season, at the hands of the heartless Olys 9 to 5. Inspired by the thought of tying the LSPs for the championship, the Olys scored at least one run in all but one inning.

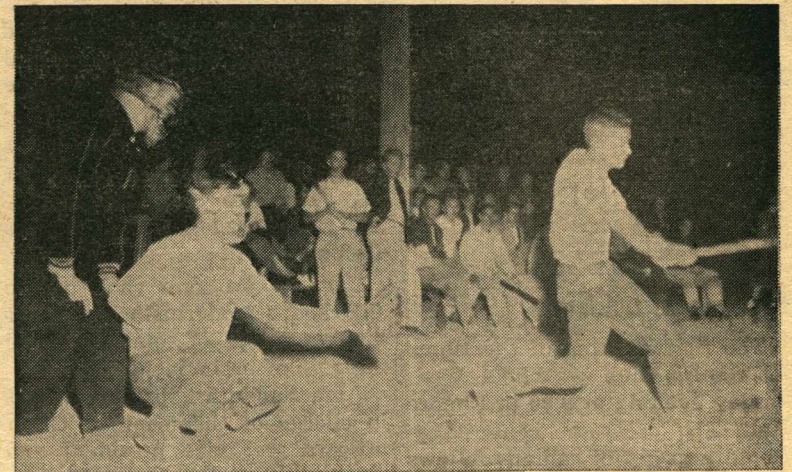

George Dillon, Oly pitcher, had things pretty much under control, except for the 4th and 6th innings when the LSPs rallied for 3 and 2 runs respectively.

The LSPs out hit the Olys 5 to 3 but the Olys hits were timely and all 5 LSP errors came at crucial times.

SLAs Edge OLYs

By WALLY JOHNSON

In the longest and most contested softball game of the year the SLAs edged the Olys 16-14. Fourteen errors and fourteen walks added to the confusion of the afternoon.

Tom Nees bats for the Olys in this action shot taken the night the Olys administered the LSPs their first defeat of the season, 9-5. Catching is Dan Etulain and the umpire is Wally Johnson.

The game was finally called, at the 5:35 deadline, in the last of the 7th, with the Olys at bat.

This loss assured the LSPs of undisputed first place and their first softball title in 7 semesters.

Chariot Journeys

Last Friday the Ambassador Quartet, consisting of Dick Ramsey, Don Oleson, Bob Hughes and Tom Matlock sang for a Youth Rally at Boise South Side Church of the Nazarene. Dr. Hess preached the message. At the Sunday morning service at Boise South Side, October 9, the Quartet again sang several numbers. In an evangelistic service at Meridian Church of the Nazarene Sunday night they sang nine songs, and Bob Hansen soloed on three different instruments. They were accompanied by Alan Rodda.

A few weeks ago the trio of Donna Murray, Ken Rodenbush and Jean Wilson, with Gene Frink and Don Bowman, held week-end services at the Evangelical Church in Prairie City, Ore.

MEET THE GANG THERE

SOCIETY

ELEANOR HORNE, Editor

Cupid's Corner

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hankins, of Emmett, Idaho, announce the engagement of their daughter Kathleen, to Mr. Duane Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Olson, of Nampa, Idaho. The wedding date has not been set.

Home Ec. Club

The first meeting of the Home Economics Club was held Wednesday evening at 9:00 in Elmore Hall. The program centered around a group of campus fellows who discussed the types of gifts they like to receive on birthdays, at Christmas, and on other special occasions.

Election of officers was held to supplement election last year of president, Carol Hankins, and vice president, Robbie Diffie. Ruth Burkhart was in charge of the evening's refreshments.

Nine-to-Five Club Meets

The second Nine-to-Five Club luncheon was held Wednesday noon, October 12, in the Morrison Hall parlor. Mrs. Helen Hill, formerly a secretary in an airline office, was the guest speaker.

"Education - Efficiency - Enthusiasm" is the club's theme of the year, and October's emphasis is "Brushing up Campus Offices." So if you notice a new arrangement or added touch of color in the office of your favorite professor, you can be sure that he has an up-to-the-minute secretary who is a member of Nine-to-Five Club!

This club, newly organized last year for all office secretaries, now has twenty-one members and is headed by the following officers: president, Phyllis Hartley; vice president, Helen Franklin; program chairman, Ramona Lloyd; and secretary-treasurer, Donna Murray.

Thank You

Orchids to the girls of Hadley Hall for their work in beautifying the grounds around their dorm.

The Chapman fellows have also been busy cleaning until everything is spic and span.

Mrs. Riley and her "flying squadron" have been busy in the rose garden between the Ad Building and the Speech Hall.

All this effort has done much to highlight the campus in its autumn beauty.

Art Club

Beta Chi Alpha, campus art club, held its first meeting Tuesday evening, October 11. Included on the agenda were organizational business, formulation of future plans and a program.

Tentative plans were laid for the annual field trip to Silver City. The idea of an annual project with suggested topics was discussed.

For the program each person sketched a modernistic humorous interpretation of some personal impression or incident.

Alda Sandquist, president, was in charge of the meeting. Other officers are: vice president and program chairman, Thelma Hutchins; secretary, Jan Cummings; treasurer, Bill Jackson and publicity chairman, Roy Croskrey. Miss Ruth Long and Miss Mary Shaffer are club sponsors.

IEA Convention

Members of the FTA who attended the Third District Annual Convention of the Idaho Education Association, in Boise this week, were proud to find NNC well-represented at the meeting.

Dr. Gilbert Ford, professor of physics, spoke to high school science teachers in their sectional workshop and Mrs. Rose Voget was on a panel to discuss business administration. Dr. Thelma Culver, state president of TEPS, presided over the meeting of that group.

NNC was also represented in the race for presidency of the IEA when Elmer Bittleston, NNC graduate and former Olympian, was nominated to run for this office.

A large number of FTA members attended the two-day session.

Marshal Science Field Trip

About thirty members of the Marshall Science Club left Nampa at 4:30 last Saturday afternoon, on a field trip to the Lake Lowell bird refuge. They studied nature until dark and then ate hamburgers, potato chips and root beer around a big bonfire. After a time of singing and Christian fellowship, they returned to the campus, a very tired but happy group of students. Club officers for the year are: Mick Dean, president; Max Urwin, vice president; Marilyn Samp, secretary-treasurer.

Film to be Presented

A film entitled "Our Bible — How It Came To Us" will be presented to the Student Body tonight.

The film tells the story of how our English Bible came to us, from the First Century A.D. to the present time. It is put out by the American Bible Society.
