VOL. XVIII — NO. 3

NORTHWEST NAZARENE COLLEGE, NAMPA, IDAHO

Friday, October 24, 1958

Mrs. Swann, seated, autographs her book, "Distant Drums," for Miss Ruth Long, left, as Mr. Paul Kunkel and Mrs. Wesley Johnson await their turn.

Autographing Party Held For Mrs. L. Aline Swann

An autographing party was held yesterday in the College Bookstore for Mrs. L. Aline Swann. The anthology of meditations, epigrams, and poems was published by the Christopher Publishing House in Boston, Mass.

The title of the collection is "Distant Drums." Some of the sketches in the book were drawn by Miss Ruth Long, art professor.

Poems are divided into three main groups in the anthology: Rhythms of the Inner Spirit, Rhythms of Nature, and Rhythms of Music. "Distant Drums" is described by the publisher as "a charming bit of creative work."

"After leading a very active life in music teaching and administration (23 years at the college level)," says the publisher's announcement, "Mrs. Swann was forced to retire for two years while recuperating from a major operation. While she was bedridden, the pages and chapters of 'Distant Drums' was created."

Alumni Awarded Degrees; Kern In Med School

Elwood R. Tame, an NNC graduate of the class of '47, was awarded his Ph.D. degree in speech during the summer commencement exercises at the University of Denver Aug. 15.

After his graduation from college, Dr. Tame pastored for a time in South Dakota, returning to his alma mater as Dean of Students. Other duties he undertook here were executive secretary of the Alumni Association and head resident at Chapman Hall. His wife, Beth, also an NNC graduate, taught at College High School.

After declining a position in the speech department at the University of Denver, Dr. Tame accepted a similar position on the staff of Bethany Nazarene College.

CHOIRS ELECT OFFICERS; PLAN FOR ACTIVITIES

Alan Rodda was elected president and Sharon Satrum secretary in the election of officers for Crusader choir this year. Mr. Tippitt has selected several new members and work has been started on the music for the spring tour. Crusader choir will be singing in College Church on the second Sunday of each month this year.

Treble Choir

The officers of the Treble choir are Ann Huntington, president; Jan Jensen, vice president, and Carol Jean Gray, secretary-treasurer. The choir is centering its activities in December this semester with a Chapel concert on Dec. 10, a television appearance on Dec. 11, and a Christmas party.

Male Choir

Mr. Bloomquist has organized the Male choir in a unique way this year. The choir, consisting of 32 members, functions as a club whose officers constitute an execu-

"Alice in Wonderland" Theme of AWS Party; Beards Appear as Stag Night Approaches

With Dale Knott, junior from Newport, Ore., named as general chairman for the affair, Northwest Nazarene College's annual Stag Night is scheduled for 8 p. m. tomorrow night in the gym.

Knott reports that all of the traditional stag night events will be repeated this year including the beard contest, bright sweater contest, fights and refreshments.

In addition to these features, Knott announces that this year will make the initiation of a new and different event. Nature of the event will not be revealed until tomorrow, but Knott promises that the new idea will result in fine fellowship and fun.

President of the Men's Club, sponsoring group for Stag Night, is Al Freeman, a junior from Seattle, Wn.

Shepherdess Class Schedules First Meeting Oct. 30

Meetings for the Shepherdess Class will start this year on Oct. 30. Plans for the year will be made at this first meeting and a president and secretary of publicity will be elected. It has been traditional to elect the wife of a senior student as leader. For many years Mrs. John Riley has sponsored this class for wives of ministerial students.

Through the years the class has varied in size from 20 to 50 wives depending on the number of married students. There are about 10 meetings during the school year. The sessions are inspirational and practical. All subjects relating to the parsonage are discussed. In the past there has been some group field work done such as visiting different types of hospitals in Nampa and in Boise, a tour of faculty homes, calling, etc.

Another value of the classes is the lasting friendships formed among the women. Because they are looking forward to similar work and living in similar circumstances, there is a very close bond of devotion. Mrs. Pearl Bellamy, last year's president, has written back to greet this first meeting. The

Student Center Announces Hours

As cold weather sets in, the Student Recreation Center, located in the west wing of Mangum Hall, will be a popular meeting place for many NNC students.

The Student Council announces the following hours in which the students may use the Recreation Center:

Every weekday from 6:30 p. m. to 7:30 p. m. the Center will be open.

In addition, Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings from 9:30 p. m. to 10:20 p. m.; Wednesdays from 9 p. m. to 10:20 p. m.

On Fridays, students are welcome from 6:30 p. m. to 11:29 p. m. Saturday's hours are from 1 p. m. to 11:20 p. m.

Made up of four large rooms, the Recreation Center facilities include a combination ping-pong and noisy game room, another for quiet games, a television room, and a hi-fi room.

Food can be purchased from the snack bar located in the Union.

All the women students of NNC are invited to attend the party. "Off-campus women are especially urged to bundle up in their long coats and come over to Morrison Hall to join the pajama parade," says Ruby Keating, president.

This recital is sponsored by the American Guild of Organists of which Mrs. Waller is a member.

Mr. Bloomquist will be featured at a voice recital at 8:15 p. m. on Nov. 7 in the chapel.

Part of the numbers will be the same pieces he sang at his graduate recital at the University of Minnesota. Mrs. Ruby Sanner will be his accompanist.

Mrs. Swann holds three music degrees and is well known in Idaho music circles. In recent years she has been a regular contributor to the National Anthology of Poetry for Teachers and Librarians, and her poems have appeared in numerous church publications.

Last year Mrs. Swann published her first book, "Song in the Night," the biography of a missionary doctor and his wife.

CWB Plans For Mid-Term Revival Meetings

Christian Workers' Band is in full swing with many activities going on, according to Al Jones, president.

Groups are being sent to various churches which have requested special singers and speakers. Weiser and Midvale, Idaho; Ione and John Day, Ore., and Pomeroy, Wash., are representative of the churches being visited.

Groups visit the local nursing homes every Sunday. Nampa State School may be added to the visitation in the future.

Some weekend revivals are being held now with plans for many more at mid-semester. Rich Benner, who has been appointed publicity chairman, states that through these weekend revivals he feels that the present revival feeling being felt upon the campus will be retained to a great degree.

A film is being scheduled for the inspirational service on Nov. 7.

MRS. STOWE ASKED TO BE SPEAKER AT NINE-TO-FIVE MEET

Mrs. Stowe will be guest speaker at the Nine-to-Five Club meeting at 7:30 p. m. on Nov. 1. Mary Alyce Galloway, newly elected sponsor, is the hostess. Refreshments will be served.

A future announcement will be made concerning the deadline for secretaries to indicate whether or not they will be present.

Elwood R. Tame, an NNC graduate of the class of '47, was awarded his Ph.D. degree in speech during the summer commencement exercises at the University of Denver Aug. 15.

After his graduation from college, Dr. Tame pastored for a time in South Dakota, returning to his alma mater as Dean of Students. After declining a position in the speech department at the University of Denver, Dr. Tame accepted a similar position on the staff of Bethany Nazarene College.

While attending the University of Denver, Dr. Tame's hobby of photography was turned into a profitable part-time job. He operated a portrait studio in Denver specializing in children's photographs.

Les Parrott

Another former NNC Dean of Students, Les Parrott was recently awarded his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan.

Stanley Kern

Dr. Alvin Aller received word this week from Mr. A. F. Arnason, assistant dean at the University of North Dakota, that Stanley Kern has been accepted for admission to the third year at the University of Kansas Medical School.

Kern graduated from NNC in 1956 and the University of North Dakota, a two-year college, in 1958.

Juniors Victors In Blood Drive

With a percentage of 26.8 per cent of its total membership, the junior class won the Blood Drive held on the NNC campus last week. The quota of 150 pints of blood was exceeded, and 172 pints were given.

The senior class had 19.7 per cent participating; faculty, 19.5 per cent; sophomores, 16.4; and freshmen, 16 per cent.

Stork Visits NNC Employees

The stork has been in flight during the last few days dropping bundles of joy to:

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Angier—a baby girl daintily tipping the scales at 6 lbs. 15½ ounces. Denise Lynn was born on Oct. 9.

Mrs. Angier teaches business here at the college.

To Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cantonwine—a second baby boy, weighing in at 9 lbs. 1 ounce. Husky little Robert Gordon was born on Oct. 14.

Mrs. Cantonwine is a member of the business office staff.

has selected several new members and work has been started on the music for the spring tour. Crusader choir will be singing in College Church on the second Sunday of each month this year.

Treble Choir

The officers of the Treble choir are Ann Huntington, president; Jan Jensen, vice president, and Carol Jean Gray, secretary-treasurer. The choir is centering its activities in December this semester with a Chapel concert on Dec. 10, a television appearance on Dec. 11, and a Christmas party.

Male Choir

Mr. Bloomquist has organized the Male choir in a unique way this year. The choir, consisting of 32 members, functions as a club whose officers constitute an executive council. These officers are Bob Longanecker, president; Ron Mills, vice president and business manager; Les Shelton, program and publicity director; Ray Colson, secretary-treasurer; and Merwyn Mattson, assistant director and member of the executive council.

Yell Leaders Set Tryouts Next Week

Election of yell leaders for the Crusader basketball squad will be held Oct. 29, Don Constable, N club president, announced this week.

Among candidates who are planning to turn out are Myrna Branum, Marilyn Franklin, Dale Knott, Jim Gongwer, Orrene Maurer, Phyllis Hickerson, Carmen Gilmore, Myrl Winkle, Harold Miner, Judy Shanks, Sandy Partee, Darla Lovett, Trudy Dixon, Diane Hoyt, Lea Mitchell, and Lois Edwards.

The yell leaders will try out both by teams and individually with the six polling the highest number of votes winning the positions.

Rev. Roscoe Pershall, Miller Lectures Speaker

Personal evangelism will this year be the theme of the annual Miller Lectures. The lectures will be given in chapel Nov. 10-14, by Rev. Roscoe Pershall.

Rev. Pershall, the father of NNC student Kathy Pershall, is a graduate of NNC himself. He has pastored in this district and in the Oregon-Pacific district. Two years ago he became district director of evangelism on the Oregon-Pacific district.

The Miller Lectures were established in 1943 by Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Miller for the purpose of giving practical aid and advice to young people going out to special Christian service. At the death of Dr. Miller, College Church asked for the privilege of perpetuating these lectures under Dr. Miller's name.

Through the years the class has varied in size from 20 to 50 wives depending on the number of married students. There are about 10 meetings during the school year. The sessions are inspirational and practical. All subjects relating to the parsonage are discussed. In the past there has been some group field work done such as visiting different types of hospitals in Nampa and in Boise, a tour of faculty homes, calling, etc.

Another value of the classes is the lasting friendships formed among the women. Because they are looking forward to similar work and living in similar circumstances, there is a very close bond of devotion. Mrs. Pearl Bellamy, last year's president, has written back to greet this first meeting. The Bellamys are now at the Seminary in Kansas City, Mo.

Wives of ministerial students or engaged women are welcome to join this class. There is a small registration fee which covers mailing announcements. The only books needed may be borrowed. Because the group is small each girl can find practical help by attending regularly.

Society Play Dates Picked

Dates for the three-act society plays this semester have been set by the Athletic-Literary Council.

The ADP, Oly, SLA play will be presented Nov. 20-21 in the college chapel. The Athenian, Spartan, LSP play is scheduled for Nov. 27-28.

Program chairmen are Myrna Branum, ADP; Pat Nees, Oly; Iverna Lyda, SLA; Marilyn Hartley, Athenian; Jackie Soderholm, Spartan; and Carolyn Eby, LSP.

Professor Reeves Tosses Hat In For Legislature

M. Francis Reeves, professor of psychology and philosophy, is running for state representative in the Idaho legislature. Mr. Reeves, a Democrat, gives the major issues of his platform as follows:

"The primary issues in this election concern education and taxation. I strongly believe we need an upgrading of certification standards, improved facilities, and better salaries. Moreover, while science should be stressed more, we must not neglect our other fundamental and so called "fringe courses."

"There is also need for special education for children who are above and below average, as well as recognition of individual differences. School districts should be more locally controlled.

Against Sales Tax

"Can we improve our educational system without increasing our taxes? In the last few years, the present administration has greatly increased our state income tax and all of the Canyon County Republican incumbents in the legislature strongly stress the need for sales tax.

"I think we can improve education without the sales tax. While the sales tax costs a lot to enforce, and tends to be a nuisance to continually pay, it is basically a plot to lower the taxes of those whose incomes are above average by putting the burden on the average tax payer.

"For example, if there were a 3 per cent sales tax, the average family that spends its entire income to meet current expenses would pay the full 3 per cent on its income. While the family that needs only one-half of its earnings for current expenses would spend only 1½ per cent sales tax on its income. This is clearly a discrimination against the average wage earner.

Resides in Nampa

Mrs. Deloris Waller will be solo organist in a recital Nov. 2 in Boise. She will be playing at the Boise Junior College auditorium at 4 p. m.

This recital is sponsored by the American Guild of Organists of which Mrs. Waller is a member.

Mr. Bloomquist will be featured at a voice recital at 8:15 p. m. on Nov. 7 in the chapel.

Part of the numbers will be the same pieces he sang at his graduate recital at the University of Minnesota. Mrs. Ruby Sanner will be his accompanist.

The faculty recital scheduled for Oct. 26 has been cancelled because the organ needs some repair work done on it.

Prof. M. Francis Reeves

Problem Is Complex

"While the taxation problem is complex and no single answer is adequate, several approaches are worth considering. More funds for education would be possible if we redirected the excess money in various dedicated funds to the general budget; then we could use that money where we have the greatest need. Taxation could even conceivably be cut through greater economy and efficiency in state offices and a plan to attract tourists and industry.

"Average growth for the state will also help. The social environment is making demands upon education and placing new responsibilities upon the teacher. We must have adequate facilities in the state of Idaho to meet this challenge."

Resides in Nampa

Mr. Reeves lives in Nampa with his wife Gloria and his two girls, Debbie, who is 4 years old, and Francene, who is 18 months.

Olivet Nazarene College, Ohio State University, and the Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri, compose Mr. Reeves' educational background.

Being a minister besides a teacher, Mr. Reeves is interested in the Collegiate Christian Ministerial Club, and is one of the club's sponsors. He is also the sponsor of the Young Democrats Club.

★★ Editorial Comment ★★

RELIGIOUS TENSION

A problem which every conscientious Christian faces if he is honest with himself before God is the problem of what is termed "religious tension." Every one who earnestly seeks God's best realizes that there is a wide gulf between what he should be and what he is.

The danger of this realization is that one is tempted to do nothing about closing the gap. This is easy to understand because the vision of what we ought to be seems so far out of reach that it looks like an impossibility to attain. As a result, we often find ourselves leveling off to an average, mediocre experience because it seems easier.

However, to realize the length, breadth, height, and depth of Christian experience is to walk daily so that each step taken leads us closer to God and bridges closer the gap between "what is" and "what should be." The Bible says, "the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

We grow as Christians not by trying to reach our goal all at once and then giving up in despair because it's impossible. We grow only as we walk in the perfect light of God's will, and do it just one day at a time.

World Events Pass In Review

By JIM FRANKLIN

On Oct. 11 the most "far reaching" incident in the history of the world took place. It was the launching of the combination four-stage rocket, the "Pioneer." It reached a distance from the earth of nearly 80,000 miles. It did not skirt the gravitational field of the moon for which it was aimed; it did, however, send back so much information about the space that it did cover, that the scientists were well satisfied with their "big shot."

This swings the U. S. back to a little better advantage propaganda-wise. The only thing left that Russia has exceeded us in considerably is weight. "Pioneer" weighed 82.7 pounds compared with Sputnik III's 2,925 pounds.

The next attempt to "shoot the moon" will come in the middle of November.

Pope's Death

Last week the world lost a prominent religious leader. Pope Pius XII died at the age of 82. He has been leader of the Roman Catholics for 19 years. He was the 260th "Great Holy Pontiff."

As a result of this death the Cardinals of the Roman Church will be thrown into political maneuvering to get support for themselves or their favorite candidate for the next Popeship.

Who Is the Wiser

In some places Negroes have gone ahead and opened their own high schools. Now comes the classic example! Some white parents who are willing to put their children's education above the fight for segregation are trying to get their children in the Negro schools.

Reds on Quemoy

Early on Oct. 20 the Chinese Reds released a statement saying that they were withdrawing their ceasefire order. Their claim was that U. S. ships had been seen sneaking in reinforcements to the Chinese Nationalists on the offshore islands. What this will mean to world peace in the days to come is anyone's guess.

Did you know . . . That Neil McKay, freshman, was president of the Orofino High School student body in 1957-58?

That Washington's 1957 Miss Youth For Christ queen is a member of the sophomore class, Marilyn Franklin?

That another NNC student of royalty was Sharon Satrum, sophomore, crowned princess of 1957 at the Molalla High School in Oregon?

That Selma Myhre, junior, has received three scholarships since her senior year in high school and had an "A" average in her junior and senior years in the Enumclaw High School in Washington? She plans to be a doctor in surgery or pathology.

That we have several Miss Nazarene queens on our campus including Sharon Perkins of the Montana-Wyoming District; Carol Moses reigned in Minnesota, and Cordell Angier held the title of Mr. Minnesota in Nazarene district camp meeting in 1958?

If you wish to have your friends' high achievements known from previous years, submit your facts to box 663.

YOUR PRESIDENT SPEAKS

What Can You Do To Better Year?

By JERRY HULL

Now that the busy weeks of orientation are over and the wonderful revival is closed we will find ourselves able to determine a little more rigid pattern of studies, devotions, and activities. As was stated in your president's keynote speech, "I hope that this question is foremost in your mind a lot of times this year. What can I do to make this a better year?"

The school year is already partially gone and some of you may have not even started to try to make a worthwhile contribution to our campus life. I am not advocating that everyone "take off" and run up a blind alley, but let us begin to develop these latent talents and innate abilities.

Advice From Lincoln

Some good advice can be taken from the words of Abraham Lincoln, "If we may but discern where we are and whither we are tending, we may better decide what we ought to do, and how it ought to be done." Set some definite goals supported by determination. It is certainly possible and would be ideal if all 600 plus of us would be making some kind of profitable contribution to our campus.

AFTER REVIVAL - WHAT?

By REV. EUGENE STOWE

We are still praising God for last week's revival. Who of us will soon forget—

- . . . those 6:30 a. m. prayer meetings;
- . . . the Spirit-anointed sermons of Dr. V. H. Lewis;
- . . . the name taken from our prayer lists after each service;
- . . . the ringing testimonies of the newly saved and sanctified;
- . . . "I Will Mind God," the theme of the revival?

All this and more is now but a happy memory. But the close of a revival meeting does not have to be the end of revival. In fact, a genuine revival will not be confined to set dates. Business does not have to be "as usual" on the campus. Of course there must be a return to the regular routine of college life . . . exams . . . athletics . . . social life. It would neither be possible nor feasible to have two evangelistic services every day of the school year. But the spirit of revival can continue. It will if we continue to practice the three things which brought revival last week.

1. PRAYER. As long as one name remains on our prayer lists we are not excused from intercession. In private devotions, in dorm prayer meetings, and in times when two or three gather in the prayer chapels, we can keep enough conviction prayed down that our friends may find God.

2. WITNESSING. The "Week of Witnessing" has given us a taste of the value and blessing of witnessing. "Practice makes perfect" in this activity as it does in everything else. Revival fires are stoked by the ready witness of Christians who "cannot but speak." If you have found God, start right now to tell someone about it. The unsolicited testimony of a satisfied customer is still the strongest kind of salesmanship!

3. FAITH. Upon the foundation of several weeks of definite praying and witnessing, it was not hard to exercise faith for the fall revival series. And continued prayer and witnessing will make it easy to keep the bridge of faith in good repair so that God may continue to transport revival across it to our campus. In no other realm is it truer that "according to your faith be it unto you." We can live in an attitude of expectancy until we will not be surprised when the smouldering embers of revival break out in chapel, classroom, or church.

After revival—what? You and I will give the answer. We can make this the year in the history of NNC which will be known as the year of continual revival. We are writing the record now. What will it be?

MEET YOUR HEADS

Allers Find Life Challenging

By RUTH OLIN

Two of our department heads here at NNC, Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Ray Aller, impressed me as being about the liveliest pair I have ever met. The love of life radiates from their past right into their future, and they both wish they had more hours in the day or more days in the week to do a few of the many hobbies they enjoy. It is not surprising that many of their hobbies are wrapped up in their teaching professions.

Dr. Aller's interest in plants and wild life has led him into his hobbies of collecting, traveling, and photography. Mrs. Aller says that she has always wanted to travel around the world but so far has not been able to do so. She, too, finds much enjoyment in subjects that she teaches because she enjoys doing them at home. They are both lovers of classical and religious music. In fact Dr. Aller plays the cello and piano in a few of his spare moments. Mrs. Aller has written some poetry and music of her own.

Mrs. Aller is head of the home economics department here at NNC and Dr. Aller is head of the biology department and is also chairman of the division of natural sciences and mathematics. In addition to his busy schedule here in Nampa, Dr. Aller is a Lt. Commander in the Naval Reserve and has only four more years of volunteer service before he gets his retirement.

Two of his summers were spent in Glacier National Park as the park naturalist; he has twice received the National Science Foundation grant for study in summer institute, the first one at the University of Wyoming and the last at Oregon State College. He is usually working on two or three research projects on his own time. "His vision always outruns his strength," Mrs. Aller added.

Met in Kansas

They first met when they were Kansas teenagers and later went together four years before getting married. They believe in long courtships or engagements. "I think they should be led by their heads as well as their hearts," was the advice that Mrs. Aller offered for young lovers today. "You don't just see someone and say that's the one for me," she added.

She further explained that it is important that a young couple have like interests, similar backgrounds and are of the same religious faith. The Allers are good examples of this advice for they were both raised in Christian homes in the open plains of Kansas. They enjoy hiking and camping trips together. Dr. Aller has never quite gotten over his love for riding horseback on the open range.

Even though they would have liked to have a larger family, they are very proud of their son, Wayne, who is now working on an advanced degree in psychology at the University of Washington. The other member of their family is Mother Aller who is now 82 years old.

Goal is Others

Mrs. Aller's goals in life are efficiency and attempting to help others. Money has never been important to her happiness because her father lived and taught the values in his favorite Bible verse: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." A verse which has helped her as a Christian is found in Psalm 141:3, "Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips." Her husband? "He's always had a reputation of being good," was her convincing reply.

Early on Oct. 20 the Chinese Reds released a statement saying that they were withdrawing their ceasefire order. Their claim was that U. S. ships had been seen sneaking in reinforcements to the Chinese Nationalists on the off-shore islands. What this will mean to world peace in the days to come is anyone's guess.

BIRD HUNTER LOCATES BIRDS

By RUTH OLIN

Saturday morning usually waits for those weary bodies in need of additional hours of sleep. To use it otherwise is almost like trying to break down a known law of nature. One recent Saturday morning was turned instead into an ornithological galloway, the like of which I shall not soon forget.

It all began when Tom Tracy got excited over a magazine report he was expounding in the elementary education science class. After some questions propounded by the teacher were answered, we discovered we had a bird lover in our midst. The next thing the rest of us knew, we were rubbing the sleep from our eyes at 5 a. m. Oct. 11. To refresh your memory, this was the morning after the flag chase or scavenger hunt.

Excursion Begins

We arrived in our various automobiles at a rollicking stream near Lake Lowell which was supposed to be swarming with birds at this special time of the morning. We were well equipped for the hunt with bird lists, manuals and binoculars. Our ears were turned to hear melodic bird songs. Thusly we started down the narrow trail winding with the stream. The bird lover headed up our single-file procession with his binoculars in one hand and a long pole with a net at the end in the other hand. The purpose of the latter object was a dubious one.

Somehow (not being the athletic type) I found myself trailing at the very end of the long line of approximately 18 fellows and girls. The only birds I could see were at squinting distance usually with my head tipped upward. When my legs became weary and sore from being attacked by thistles of assorted sizes, I began to think and soon thought of a splendid idea. If I were a bird and I saw 18 large animals headed my way, where would I go? I decided to go there too. I stopped and sat beside a colorful bush. Several questioning backward glances from fellow classmate were waved on by my bluish-pink fingers.

Birds Appear

My idea blossomed like a Portland rose. Almost at once I found myself surrounded by scores of delightful winged creatures all

The school year is already partially gone and some of you may have not even started to try to make a worthwhile contribution to our campus life. I am not advocating that everyone "take off" and run up a blind alley, but let us begin to develop these latent talents and innate abilities.

Advice From Lincoln

Some good advice can be taken from the words of Abraham Lincoln, "If we may but discern where we are and whither we are tending, we may better decide what we ought to do, and how it ought to be done." Set some definite goals supported by determination. It is certainly possible and would be ideal if all 600 plus of us would be making some kind of profitable contribution to our campus.

Challenges Progression

If you will read back over the column you will find no strict rules that have to be followed nor will you find anything really too profound. I merely hope to challenge all of us to work together for the betterment of our college days. But one word of caution very aptly stated by Dr. Niles, "When you go hunting for ivory you must remember there is always an elephant attached."

bursting with their own song. I sat very still—too still, because the rhythmic crunch of underbrush revealed to my horrified eyes two frightened white-tail deer heading straight for my resting spot. This I deserted with great haste, choosing rather the nearest fence post. When my courage was revived, I situated myself more comfortably atop a wooden gate and opened my ornithological eyes and ears to further eavesdrop on any birds who cared to venture my way.

Too soon the tramping 18 came into view—breakfast bound; and I, the 19th, trailed along behind. I cannot speak for the 18, but I, the 19th, would try it again—my way!

this activity as it does in everything else. Revival fires are stoked by the ready witness of Christians who "cannot but speak." If you have found God, start right now to tell someone about it. The unsolicited testimony of a satisfied customer is still the strongest kind of salesmanship!

3. FAITH. Upon the foundation of several weeks of definite praying and witnessing, it was not hard to exercise faith for the fall revival series. And continued prayer and witnessing will make it easy to keep the bridge of faith in good repair so that God may continue to transport revival across it to our campus. In no other realm is it truer that "according to your faith be it unto you." We can live in an attitude of expectancy until we will not be surprised when the smouldering embers of revival break out in chapel, classroom, or church.

After revival—what? You and I will give the answer. We can make this the year in the history of NNC which will be known as the year of continual revival. We are writing the record now. What will it be?

OUR DAILY BREAD

By Miss Eula Tombaugh, Dietician

In the Boise Valley with orchards, gardens and dairy farms yielding such an abundance of top quality foods, good nutrition should be everybody's pleasure. However, availability of nutrients does not necessarily indicate their use. "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink."

Income and Diet

An interesting series of studies revealed three things. First, a good income does not necessarily guarantee an adequate diet. It was found by Martha C. Hardy and others that only 60 per cent of the children in high income groups in a metropolitan area had adequate diets. Although money could, it does not always purchase high quality nutrition.

Home and Diet

Secondly, it was discovered that living in a food-producing area (such as the Boise Valley) does not necessarily guarantee an adequate diet. Thirty per cent of the children in five rural schools had no green or yellow vegetable over a full week's report. Furthermore,

50 per cent of the children in five rural schools in a dairy district had less than two glasses of milk daily in a week. Certainly no diet will be adequate which is lacking in yellow and green vegetables and milk.

Knowledge and Diet

Thirdly, knowledge of food values does not of itself guarantee an adequate diet, although it helps. In 20 metropolitan homes with home economics education, L. H. Gillett and P. B. Rice found 60 per cent of the diets were adequate in calcium content, but in comparable homes without the extra training only 41 per cent of the diets had adequate calcium content.

In this area we should be able to combine adequate incomes with our high food production and add sufficient nutrition information to be well-nourished, and help to build a healthy America. Good eating habits need to be established early in life at the home base to be sure that our daily bread is all that it ought to be. The rewards for careful planning of our daily bread are a healthy family and a progressive community.

Home Ec Students Attend IHEA Meet

Representatives from NNC's home economics department recently attended the biennial meeting of the Idaho Home Economics Association held at the Owyhee Hotel in Boise, Oct. 10-11.

Attending the convention were Bev Johnson, Arlis Fulgham, Carol Moses, Kathy Schroeder, Ruby Keating, Martha Hopkins, Roberta Miller, Marilyn Kelly, and Janet Moore.

Arlis Fulgham, NNC sophomore, was elected vice president of the college club section of the IHEA. Bev Johnson is this year's president of the organization on campus.

Mrs. Aller served as head of the constitution revision committee this year. In 1955 she served as president of the IHEA. The NNC home economics club was in charge of making the programs for the association meeting.

Miss Wanda Rhodes, home economics instructor, met with the college representatives and supervised them in the adoption of standing rules and the completion of their organization.

NNC's Home Economics Club met Oct. 21 to initiate new officers for the year.

Other officers include vice president, Joan Ogburn; secretary, Car eta Hammond; treasurer, Arlis Fulgham. Mrs. Florence Aller, Mrs. Pat Whitmarsh, and Miss Wanda Rhodes are serving as sponsors for this club.

Student Ministers Hear Dr. Lewis

Student ministers heard Dr. V. H. Lewis twice last week while he was on campus.

His first meeting with them was an informal talk on the call to the ministry. The student ministers were encouraged "to rise to the task before you; be the best minister you can be under God; and grab the thing by the jaw and never give up until God calls you home."

Dr. Lewis's second talk was to explain the Church's approach to evangelism. He said that "a church must do two things: one, keep in touch with God; and two, keep in touch with the generation in which you live."

He emphasized the program of visitation in the local church using both mass and personal evangelism. Dr. Lewis urged the ministerial students to seek to have the shepherd's heart, to identify himself to his parish and community.

A man got into a taxi the other day and shouted at the driver: "Drive around the park 50 times."

The driver complied with the man's wishes. On the third

Chapman Hosts Social Relations Panel Discussion

Dorm presidents from Hadley, Mangum, and Morrison Halls were guests at the Chapman Hall dorm meeting Oct. 6. These presidents answered questions pertaining to social relationships on the NNC campus.

The fellows expressed the opinion that they were ready to cooperate in the soon coming Twirp Week activities.

New showers have been installed in Chapman through the cooperation of the freshmen of 1957-58.

Orkney Announces Young Dems Plans

Dale Orkney, president of the Young Democrats Club on campus, has announced several activities for the near future.

A chapel service is being planned by the organization for Oct. 28, in which the Democratic candidates for Canyon County will be introduced.

According to Mr. Reeves, sponsor, the Young Democrats would like to challenge the Young Republicans to a public group discussion on the subject, "Why Am I a Republican or a Democrat?" with special reference being given to state and county problems.

The group has been cooperating with the local Democratic headquarters by assisting with clerical work and the distribution of literature.

Mr. Reeves emphasized that, "As a rule, college students are isolated from specific community and county problems, and the idea of having two young political groups ought to make us more informed and interested in our problems and thus make better citizens of our students."

Prof. Reeves also urged that all students participate in one club or the other, because the information gained and the experience of belonging to an active group is very valuable.

AWARDS OFFERED FOR RAT-CATCHERS

From the ASIAN STUDENT comes this announcement:

A one-year scholarship to intermediate or high school is being offered to one student from each of the 52 Philippine provinces who can collect the most number of rat tails from Sept. 1 to March 10.

The Philippine Secretary of Agriculture, Juan De G. Rodriguez, announced recently that his department would award the scholarships as part of the government anti-rat campaign.

Student Wives Meet in Mangum

To help young married women to meet and to make friends, an informal get acquainted get-together for wives of all married students was inaugurated this year. It was sponsored by the faculty wives under the leadership of Mrs. Elmore Vail, president. About 40 women met in Mangum parlor and were greeted by Mrs. John Riley and Mrs. Vail. Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Vail spoke briefly to the gathering.

Each guest had been asked to bring a picture of her husband and these were pinned on as name tags and used to introduce the women to each other. It was found that the longest-married wife had been married 16 years and the most recent was married on Sept. 16. The largest family had five children.

The women were divided into small groups and, each led by a faculty wife, toured the Student Recreation Rooms, the Administration Building, the Home Economics building and the Library.

After this brief tour of the campus the wives went to the Residence and were served refreshments. Mrs. Gilbert Ford poured the tea; Mrs. Vail, Mrs. Francis Reeves, Mrs. Warnie Tippitt and Mrs. Chester Galloway assisted in serving.

Mrs. Dean Morrow won the prize for learning the first names of the women around the circle and Mrs. Hugh Pierce was runner-up.

Students Reveal Racial Feelings

An idea of the thinking of northern students was revealed last spring in a poll taken at a Big Ten school conducted by the MINNESOTA DAILY and reported by Associated Collegiate Press.

Sixty-two per cent of students at the University of Minnesota do not believe fraternities and sororities are justified in having bias clauses in their constitution.

Only 21 per cent said Greek organizations were justified in having bias clauses. But 38 per cent said the university shouldn't disestablish groups because of such clauses.

In another area, 66 per cent of those polled would share their room with a Negro in a dormitory, but 91 per cent would accept food brought from a Negro home.

Questions about dating Negroes, Jewish and foreign students brought these results:

Seventy-six per cent said they would not date Negroes, 21 and 6 per cent would not date Jewish and foreign students, respectively. Ten per cent would date Negroes, 65 Jewish, 77 foreign. Undoubtedly

Arlis Fulgham Elected To State IHEA Office

Arlis Fulgham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fulgham of Grandview, Wash., was elected vice president of the college club section of the Idaho Home Economics Association at its biennial meeting in Boise Oct. 11.

Arlis Fulgham

Arlis is the youngest of four children. Her major is home economics. She has been a member of the NNC home economics club for two years, and this year serves as treasurer.

The main offices of the college section of IHEA are chosen on a rotation basis from four-year colleges. Minor officers come from two-year colleges. Those represented at the meet included University of Idaho, Idaho State College, Ricks College, Boise Junior College, Northern Junior College, and Northwest Nazarene College.

Mid-Term Exams Set for Nov. 3-6

Mid-semester examinations will be given Nov. 3-6 this year. Mid-semester and bench grades will be due at 9 a. m., Nov. 8.

Circle K Election

Recently elected members of Circle K are Gordon Olsen, Lauren Ellis, and Dave Jennings.

Dan Etulain, Dave Friesen, Rich Williamson, and Richard Benner are the new board members.

Featured guest speaker at the last regular meeting was Rev. Eugene Stowe, who challenged the Circle K members to be of service at all times.

NOTE ON MODERN ART

From Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Tex., comes this item on modern art:

Pi Kappa Delta Installs Officers

Officers installed at the recent formal initiation ceremony of the newly organized Pi Kappa Delta club were president, Clayton Bonar, a junior from Sloughhouse, Calif.; secretary, Irene Ammons from Nappa; and treasurer, Richard Benner, sophomore from Kansas City, Mo.

Pi Kappa Delta is a national speech honorary. It replaces the Spencian Speech club and is a chapter of the Idaho Delta. Membership is for life in this national forensic society.

Sponsors of the organization are Mr. Mallalieu A. Wilson and Miss Helen G. Wilson. Miss Marian Washburn, chairman of the division of literature and languages, has been named first honorary member of the new society.

The purpose of the club is to create a better understanding of speech, and likewise to create interest in speech. It was formed to create fellowship with other institutions having collegiate speech in their programs.

Dr. Lester McCrery, professor of speech at the College of Idaho, served as installing officer assisted by three Pi Kappa Deltans from Caldwell, Ted Wills, George Forschler, and Bill Hohlt.

Foreign Study Statistics Given

In a survey released by the Institute of International Education it was found that the United States attracted more foreign students to its schools in 1957-58 than ever before in its history.

This country continued to lead the free world in the education of foreign persons, with 43,391 students and scholars coming to study in 1801 American schools from 145 countries — some as remote as Basutoland and the Fiji Islands.

Three significant characteristics of foreign students in the U. S. are revealed: (1) the typical foreign student in the United States is a Far Easterner majoring in engineering; (2) he is most likely here on his own funds, not because of a scholarship; and (3) in one out of three cases, he is interested, especially if he is an engineer, in employment after graduation with the overseas branch of a U. S. corporation.

The statistical "he," it might be added, is also prone to be an actual "he," with men students still outnumbering women more than three to one. The only country to send more women than men was the Philippines.

Figures in this survey are the result of five surveys conducted by

Young Republicans Complete NNC Political Parties

With the recent organization of Young Republicans on the campus of Northwest Nazarene College both political parties now have student groups at the college.

Elected to serve as president of the Young Republicans is Douglas D. Shetler, sophomore from Vancouver, Wn. Shetler, a history major, was a high school debater at Vancouver.

Other officers selected by the Young Republicans include Louise Weitman, senior from Colfax, Wn., vice president; Connie Hill, junior from Marsing, secretary, and Dave Hansen, senior from Hillsboro, Ore., treasurer. Dr. P. A. Wesche is the group's sponsor.

NNC Young Republicans ushered for the rally in the NNC chapel Oct. 17 and have performed other services for the parent group.

"Our purpose in organizing is to stimulate interest in the processes of democratic society," says Shetler.

The purpose of the group is to acquaint students and faculty with the local Republican candidates and also with local political situations.

Members will aid candidates with distribution of campaign material. Candidates will also be presented in a chapel service.

Concert Band Sets Nov. 25 For Performance

NNC's concert band is scheduling its first concert for Nov. 25 during the chapel period. "Some more help is needed in the reed and percussion sections," says Prof. John Eby, director. Rehearsals are held each Thursday night from 6:45 to 9:15 p. m.

The concert scheduled for Nov. 14 has been cancelled.

The College pep band held its organizational meeting on Oct. 21. This band is usually limited to 25-30 members according to the desired instrumentation.

Admission to pep band membership is determined by: first, membership in College band; second, former members; third, upper classmen; and fourth, others.

This year the music department desires an orchestral group for the presentation of the "Messiah." The orchestra will play the "Overture," the "Pastoral Symphony," and accompany the choral parts.

Preference for membership will be given to college students, although outside help may be used.

The first rehearsal is scheduled for 6:45 to 8 p. m. on Oct. 28 in the band room.

Missouri Stare— Is That You?

By RUTH OLIN

Have you ever had someone look right through you? Now I don't mean a stare that indicates its possessor is able to read your thoughts. I mean a sort of far-away look which completely negates your existence.

This has happened to me more times than I care to tell. And right here on our own campus!

One might conclude that such hard-lookers are practicing to be hypnotists . . . or that they have discovered X-ray vision. I am afraid, though, that this is not the case.

I fear that these "Missouri stares" merely indicate that the existence of fellow students means nothing to them. Maybe it doesn't—but have they ever stopped to think that such conduct makes people feel very much unwanted? No one wants to feel unwanted.

How glad I am for those who make me and everyone else feel wanted. These are the people who are genuinely friendly. They are the sort who recognize the value of individual worth and who show by their actions the Christian's love for his fellow man.

If you know some unfriendly students who pass out cold stares liberally, I have a suggestion to make. Let's try an experiment with these friends during the next few weeks.

First, let's make a mental note each day of those who allow themselves the distinction of being friendly to a certain few. If you don't know their names, make a special effort to find out who they are. The next time you meet them greet them with your prettiest smile and call them by name. Be sure to do this loudly enough so that they will hear you.

Hendrix Listed To Speak at FMB

Professor Sutherland told of his personal experiences in China at the Foreign Missionary Band's last meeting.

Haroldine Yancey, program chairman, announces that Ray Hendrix will speak on Argentina at the next meeting. FMB's project of the year will also be decided upon.

Larry Clark, president, invites anyone who is interested to attend, and especially those who signed FMB cards in chapel.

Next, during your devotions, pray for the friendship of these persons. If enough of us do this consistently for awhile, I believe there will be a marked difference.

Incidentally, I want to go on record right here and now that if ever you catch me in the act of giving one of those Missouri stares or glares, I hope you will shake me from my lethargy.

Maybe this would be a good motto for us all:

- A little more kindness, a little less creed
- A little more giving, a little less greed
- A little more smile, a little less frown
- A little less kicking a man when he's down.
- A little more "we," a little less "I"
- A little more laugh, a little less cry
- A few more flowers on the pathway of life
- And fewer on graves at the end of the strife.

Only 2 per cent interviewed believe the Negro race is biologically inferior. Ninety per cent said Negroes were not biologically inferior.

Fifty-five per cent of the Minnesota students noticed that Negro students usually congregated in one place in the student union, to 43 per cent who hadn't noticed such gathering. Eighty-two per cent had no objection to the congregation; 8 per cent thought it objectionable.

SHE GOT THERE

It was at the funeral of a woman who had been thoroughly disliked in a rural community—and for cause. With a sharply barbed tongue and a violently explosive disposition, she henpecked her husband, drove her children mercilessly and quarreled with her neighbors. Even the animals on the place wore a hunted look.

The day was sultry, and as the minister's voice droned on the sky grew darker. Just as the service ended, the storm broke furiously. There was a blinding flash followed closely by a terrific thunder clap. In the stunned silence a voice was heard from the back row of the crowded room: "Waal, she's got there!"—The Reader's Digest.

The village blacksmith hired himself an apprentice and immediately began his instructions to the promising lad. "When I take the horseshoe out of the fire," he said, "I'll lay it on the anvil. And when I nod my head, you hit it with the hammer."

NOTE ON MODERN ART

From Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Tex., comes this item on modern art:

Once, a long time ago, people used to like to go to the art museum. But then there was a young artist who dreamed of selling his painting for 18 million dollars.

So, he put his canvas on the floor, poured paint and ink on it, jumped, hopped, skipped, and ran on it, and finally shovelled sand on it to give it "texture."

Gleefully, he took it to the experts at the museum. They didn't understand it. "But it is so different," they said. "It must be a new trend. And the color is so brilliant," they exclaimed, "that it makes us feel so—so . . ." So they gave it first prize.

And the people stared at it hanging in the museum, but one day it was gone. Someone has bought it for 18 million.

So now people don't go to the art museum any more. They're at home trying to paint.

They were hidden in the swing in the moonlight alone. No word broke the stillness for half an hour until—

"Suppose you had money," she said, "what would you do?"

He threw out his chest in all the glory of young manhood. "I'd travel!"

He felt her warm, young hand slide into his. When he looked up she had gone. In his hand was a nickel!

Americans Abroad

The already large number of American students going abroad for study rose further in the period surveyed by the report. They numbered 12,845 in 52 countries with a tendency to concentrate heavily in the West. Fifty-eight per cent, a record number, went to Europe, 20 per cent studied in Latin America and 13 per cent went to Canada.

The Far East continued this year to be the area which sent the largest number of foreign students to the United States—33 per cent of the total. Latin America was again second, with 21 per cent. The only country to top the large Far Eastern delegations was neighboring Canada, which continued to be the single country with the largest number of students here.

Engineering, Top Field

More foreign students, 23 per cent, were enrolled in courses in engineering than in any other field. The next largest group was in the humanities. Far and Middle Easterners and Latin Americans, striving for their countries' economic development, were those concentrating most heavily in engineering. Africans, newly coming into political independence, tended more to the social sciences. Europeans and Canadians swelled the numbers of those in the humanities.

The University of California was outstanding in having the largest foreign student population; it also has the greatest number of foreign

LARRY HALTER LEADS IEA DISCUSSION

Larry Halter, a senior from Portland, Ore., led a Student National Education Association discussion at the Idaho Educational Association meeting at Boise last week.

Halter is president of the NNC chapter of SNEA which numbers about 100 students, according to Mrs. Edythe Leupp, sponsor. This includes those students preparing for both elementary and secondary school positions.

Other officers of SNEA at NNC are Laveta Urwin, vice president; Ethel Kraft, secretary, and Lorraine Paul, recording secretary. Faculty members and the largest number of its own faculty on foreign assignment.

Total figures on faculty exchanges continued to grow as did the number of foreign physicians training in U. S. hospitals. The most notable statistic in the later category was the sharp rise in the number of women physicians coming here, most of them from the Far East.

Freshmen and New Students Start Basketball Practice; Jayvee's and Returning Lettermen Begin Next Week

Freshmen and new students started practice this week as a kick-off to the 1958-59 basketball season. The jayvee's and returning lettermen will start regular work-out next week.

Coach Orrin Hills, head mentor, has each basketball prospect out running 10 laps around the track every night in order to get them in shape for the tough schedule ahead.

Among these turning out with the freshmen and new students to show their stuff to Coach Hills were Art Zellmer, Bill Fivecoat, Harold Miner, Neil McKay, Bill Tracy, and Richard Clark.

Gene Oberg from Oakridge, Ore., showed up, too. Gene is the fellow who jumps up and scratches his beard on the rim of the basket. When Gene is measured from the top of his head to the bottom of his feet, the measuring tape registers 79 inches.

8 Lettermen Back

There are eight returning lettermen from last year's squad who will soon be fighting for a starting position. They are guards, Phil White, Tom Tracy, Wally Stewart, Phil Campbell; forwards, Bob Peppley, Sam Willard; and centers, Dave Hanson and Al Freeman.

Spartans Win Softball; All-Stars Are Elected

Results of the first semester women's softball games show the Spartans in first place, SLA's second, ADP's third, Athenians fourth and the Oly's in a tie with the LSP's for fifth place.

Sparking the Spartan women to boost them to the top were Mary Waller, Linda Maestretti, Carmen Gilmore, Marilyn Slemmer, Ruth Watkins, Marjorie Cox, Louise Miller, Arlis Fulgham, Carol Coulter, Glenda Anderson, Lois Young, and Carol Alexander.

All-Stars Elected

Selected to the all-star softball team this semester were Mary Waller, Spartan, pitcher; Carmen Gilmore, Spartan, first base; Joan Ogburn, LSP, utility; Sandy Coombs, Athenian, first base; Dorothy Mittleider, Athenian, pitcher; Luella Daniels, Athenian, outfield; Lois Draper, SLA, catcher; Minnie Humphrey, SLA, pitcher; and Martha Hopkins, ADP, pitcher.

This year a new policy has been adopted for election to the all-star team. All members of each society team list nine players whom they think should be chosen on the all-star team. Instead of voting for an all-star person to fill each position on the softball team, voters choose nine players irregardless of position.

tain Intercollegiate champion, Harper, and Dan Etulain are the three returning lettermen this year.

CROSS COUNTRY ENLISTED INTO INTRAMURAL RANKS

Cross country has been added to the intramural program this year. It will be considered a minor sport. As its name implies, it is a race across country with the natural terrain or the land offering obstacles of various sorts. It isn't a pell-mell race over hill-and-dale. It is run on a prescribed, marked-out course. The awarding of points gives the race a spirit of competition.

The NNC course, which is 2.175 miles long, is run from the track, across the Campus, through Kurtz Park and then back to the track. In preliminary competition Oct. 15, the SLA's, placed two men in the first four—Dale Orkney who finished second and Phil Stuchell,

With the cry of the umpire's "strike three, you're out of there," came the close of the softball season of 1958. The intramural directors say thanks to all who cooperated and helped the keen competition this season.

SLA's Are Champs

Many ball games were played right down to the wire with only one-run differences, but one team weathered those one-run games—the SLA's. The SLA team won four games and dropped only one to the hustling Spartans; 7-5.

Here are the team standings for the season.

Team	Won	Lost
SLA	5	1
Oly	3	2
ADP	3	2
Spa	3	2
Ath	1	4
LSP	1	4

Bench Plays Havoc

In looking at the individual sports we see the bench club making havoc of the carefully scheduled play-offs. It seems that one prerequisite in being a bench club member is non-association with sports-minded folks. Miss you fellows—hope your membership in the club is short-lived.

ADP's Top Tennis

The ADP's dominate the tennis mixed doubles with Hopkins and Hoff playing Hanson and Waller.

Women's Volleyball Begins; Participation Good in Softball

By LOIS DRAPER

Volleyball season is here again. Practice sessions for each society have been held this week. Today the SLA's meet the LSP's at 4:05 p. m. and the ADP's compete against the Athenians at 4:50 p. m. Every society member needs to support her team.

With promises of good volleyball games and possible upsets, no predictions as to the top team will be made at this time by this writer.

Individual sports have been progressing toward the finals. A report of the winners will be given in the next Crusader.

Crusaderette Call

A call for women interested in playing on the NNC Crusaderette volleyball team will be given within the next week or two, according to Miss Wanda Rhodes, sponsor.

Women will be selected from the intramural volleyball teams who would like to compete against other towns.

Softball Results

Total participation in women's softball has been better this semester than ever before, with 105 women taking part in this phase of the intramural program. Freshmen lead the statistics with 54. Next in numbers are the juniors with 22 of these energetic women participating. Fifteen of the sophomores reported to the field, 13 seniors, and 1 high school student provided inter-society competition.

The winner plays Hill and Dirkse for the championship. In tennis men's doubles, Zellman and Wesche, LSP, play SLA's Etulain and Stuchell with the winner playing Caven and Thompson of the ADP's for the championship.

ADP Society Leads

The ADP Society had the most participating of the six societies, numbering 20 students. The Spartans followed close behind with 19. Seventeen each was the number for the LSP's, Oly's and SLA's. The Athenians reported 15 women who participated.

There were 17 women who participated in every game for a total of seven games. Sharing in three or more games were 72 of the 105 participants.

Readin' Between the Lines

By BOB ANDERSON

In men's softball the SLA's finally were beaten by the fighting Spartans, but their record of five wins and one loss still won them the softball championship. Tied for second place are the Oly's, Spartans and the ADP's. Tied for fifth place are the Athenians and the LSP's.

If you are wondering why half of the male students on campus are going around on crutches, it's because the supposedly tame sport of flag football has begun. If you don't think it takes courage to play on the line without pads just turn out for your next society football game and try it once. The school's insurance policy will pay for your nice quiet rest in the hospital.

Every year an all-star team is chosen from among the societies and listed in the Crusader. This year I have chosen players that I predict will be on the all-star team for the 1958 season. I believe that except for 11 or 12 changes in the lineup, the all-star team will consist of the players I have chosen.
