Laurie Seaman Chosen For District Music Finals

Laurie Seaman, accompanied by Sharon Satrum, was awarded first place in men's vocal solos of the Idaho State Music Contest and is now entitled to compete in the district finals for Idaho, Montana, and Utah in March at Salt Lake.

Ten scholarships will be awarded the district winners by the National Federation of Music Clubs. Nineteen students gave 20-minute programs at Boise Junior College in pre-competition try-outs for the scholarships which are valued at $8,000.

This contest is sponsored bi-annually by the student musician division of the Idaho State Music Association. It does not enable district winners to compete on any higher basis. Only those entrants on a professional level compete in the national finals.

Although it was keyed to appeal to private music teachers and their pupils, representatives from College of Idaho, Boise Junior College, University of Idaho, and NNC were entered in the competition.

Contestants needed at least two A-ratings from the three judges to qualify as winners. Seaman received the top rating from each of the judges.

Seaman came to NNC this year from Red Deer, Alberta, where he attended Canadian Nazarene College. He has been studying voice with Prof. Marvin R. Bloomquist of the music department at NNC.

Seaman's father, Dr. Bernard Seaman, is dean of the college at Red Deer.

Only first place awards were given in the string, piano, and voice divisions.

Dave Mattson entered the piano division in a field of nine competitors. Although he missed winning first place, Mrs. Alline Swann, NNC piano instructor, said, "I've never heard him do so well," adding, "he was truly inspired."

Science Majors Sign For Jobs

Phil Bramson and Don Constable, two NNC seniors, will begin work at the Hanford atomic project in Richland, Wash., upon graduation this year.

Bramson is from Casper, Wyo., and Constable is from Caldwell, Idaho. Both are engineering physics majors.

Hanford Products Operation, producer of plutonium, will put the engineering majors through a rotation period. During the first year they will try four or more positions in the plant. Then they will be placed permanently in the one they like best.

Bramson's future plans include marriage. His wife-to-be, Ethel Kraft, a graduating senior, expects to teach at Richland.

Constable will start work with the advantage of three months of experience gained at the atomic plant at Arco, Idaho, this past summer.

Art Club Lists Mrs. McKenzie For March Meet

Mrs. Mary McKenzie, art instructor at Nampa Junior High School, will be the guest speaker at the art club meeting on March 17.

Mrs. McKenzie's topic will be "Art In The Elementary School." Her talk will be geared to interest art club members and elementary education majors.

Three Win Firsts At Speech Meet

Three Northwest Nazarene College women — Louise Weitman, Joyce Oldenkamp and Lorraine Paul — were first place winners in the Idaho Speech conference which was held at Boise Junior College last week-end.

The Misses Weitman and Oldenkamp won the title in lower women's debate while Miss Paul took first in lower women's communicative reading.

Participating in the competition were students from Idaho State College, University of Idaho, College of Idaho, Ricks College, Boise Junior College and NNC.

An NNC men's debate team composed of David Rinker and Albert Lewis tied for third place in men's debate. Rinker also won a certificate of merit for achievement in individual events.

Miss Weitman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weitman of Colfax, Wn., is a senior at NNC and is majoring in language and literature. She is attending college on an honor scholarship and this marks her first year of college varsity debate.

Miss Paul, another senior, is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Paul of Harrington, Wn. This was her first experience in inter-collegiate speech competition.

Miss Oldenkamp, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Oldenkamp of Tillamook, Ore. A first year speech student, she will have two more years of intercollegiate competition after this one.

Second Semester Budget Announced

Student council approved second semester's budget at its meeting last week. The student body will vote on the budget March 2.

Names of the organizations and allotments are: Oasis, $2,534.50; Athletics, $2,142.00; Crusader, $760.50; Forensics, $229.50; CWB, $114.75; KROK, $248.63; AWS, $76.50; Men's Club, $19.13; Senior Class, $76.50.

Junior Class, $114.75; Sophomore Class, $38.25; Freshman Class, $38.25; College High $248.63; CMA, $25.25; Circle "K" Club, $25.25; Art Club, $25.25; FBLA, $25.25.

FMB, $25.25; SNEA, $38.25; Home Economics, $25.25; IRC, $25.25; Music Club, $25.25; Marshall Science Club, $38.25; Scriblerus, $25.25; Speech Club, $25.25; Pep Band, $19.16.

ASB Accounts, $669.95; salaries, $225.00; General expense, $394.95; Reserve Fund, $50.00. The total budget is $7,650.00.

Four Home Ec Students Receive State Nominations

Four women were nominated for offices in the state college club section of the American Home Economics Association at the Feb. 10 home economics club meeting.

Roberta Miller and Careta Hammond were nominated for state president. Arlis Fulgham and Myrna Dean received the nominations for recording secretary.

Mrs. Florence Aller, home economics department head, recently spoke at Meridian High School's "Career Day." She spoke on "Career Opportunities in Home Economics."

TWO MUSIC FACULTY TO ATTEND MEET

Mrs. Deloris Waller, head of NNC's music department, and Prof. John Eby, band director, will accompany four College High School students to a conference at Seattle, Wash.

The biennial meeting of the Music Educators National Conference will start March 4 and run through March 7.

College High students attending the conference are Don Sauer, Ken Tippitt, Bud Kinzler, and Jim Gillespie. Application must be sent in and approved before attendance is allowed at the convention.

After three days of intense practice, the All-Northwest Choir, Band and Orchestra will each present a performance on March 7.

Represented in the All-Northwest are the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and Alaska.

Miss Rhodes Taken Into New Society

Miss Wanda Rhodes accepted the pledge for membership in the Home Economics National Honorary Society, the Omicron Nu, on Feb. 25 at Oregon State College in Corvallis, Ore.

Miss Rhodes was elected to the society on the basis of high scholastic work soon after receiving her master's degree in the spring of 1957. It is necessary to appear in person before becoming an official member of the Society.

The purpose of the Omicron Nu is to recognize superior scholarship and to promote leadership and research in the field of home economics.

Miss Rhodes returned from Corvallis on Feb. 26.

Crusader Choir Arranges Tour

Crusader Choir directed by Prof. Warnie Tippitt, and sponsored by Rev. L. Wesley Johnson, will leave on its spring tour on March 20. The Choir is a 44-voice group. The tour concludes March 30.

Dave Mattson is the accompanist. A program of religious classics and hymn arrangements will be given in churches and schools throughout Washington, Oregon, and Idaho.

Plans for New Dorm Nearing Completion

Detailed plans and specifications for the new women's dormitory are nearing completion, according to L. Wesley Johnson, business manager. Loan arrangements with the government, final approval of the plans, receiving contractors' bids, and many other details are being carried out as rapidly as possible.

Sutherland Hall has been sold and moved. Several trees have been taken out in order to make room for the new dorm.

Mr. L. Wesley Johnson, NNC's business manager is hoping for ground-breaking ceremonies during the Board of Regents meeting March 11.

Mr. Johnson said, "It is our ambition to have it ready for occupancy in the fall of 1959."

The dorm is made of three two-story units housing 40 women each. Each of these is joined together by a one-story unit for lobby, lounge, and head resident's unit.

Intramural Speech and Music Contests Slated; Events Listed

This semester's intramural speech and music final contests will be held March 12-13 according to Mr. Elmore Vail, director of intramural activities at NNC. The preliminaries for the music contest will be held March 6 to determine entrants from each society to be entered in the finals. Preliminaries for the speech division are scheduled between 3:15 p. m. and 5 p. m. on March 11. All entries must be handed in by March 9.

The speech club, sponsoring the speech division, selected these three events for this semester: extemporaneous speaking, Shakespearean dialogue, and Bible reading.

The topic for extemp will be "General College Life." These speeches are to be two minutes in length.

Shakespearean dialogue may consist of cuttings from any of Shakespeare's plays. The cuttings are to be 10 minutes in length. The dialogue must consist of two teams; each team consisting of one or two students.

Scriptures will be posted on March 5 for the Bible reading contestants. Each reading is to be three minutes in length.

Each society will be limited to three contestants in each of the above divisions.

No more than eight participants will be selected from the music division. This semester's contest is instrumental with piano and organ predominating, according to Mrs. Deloris Waller, music club sponsor.

In order to have a contest, there must be at least two entries in each division. Preliminaries are March 6.

Judges for the final events have not been chosen. Mrs. Alline M. Swann, Mrs. Ruby Sanner, and Prof. T. C. Leckie will officiate at the music contest preliminaries.

Sanner Sermon Award Instituted By Sanner Family

Children of Dr. A. E. Sanner will present a $50 award to the graduating ministerial student who writes and preaches the best sermon. The award will be presented this year for the first time and will continue to be given at each commencement season.

The cash prize will be called the "A. E. Sanner Sermon Award" in honor of Dr. Sanner's service to the Church of the Nazarene and to Christian education.

The winner will be chosen by a committee of judges designated by the Division of Philosophy and Religion.

Dr. Sanner lived in Nampa during the 1920's and taught at NNC one year. He was district superintendent of the Idaho-Oregon district for seven years.

As a committee member spearheading a debt liquidation campaign, he handled $46,000 that helped pay off a $93,000 debt. For several years he lectured weekly on practices to young preachers at NNC.

SLA's Lead Sunday School Contest; Lafayette Park Ahead

NNC's College Church is now engaged in a three-way Sunday School contest. This year the competitors are the Lafayette Park Church in St. Louis, Mo., and Olivet College Church in Kankakee, Ill.

The contest will continue through March 15. Miss Helen Wilson and Jack Wright are general chairmen for the contest. Each society has its own chairman to promote the competition.

Currently in first place is Lafayette Park. Following in second place is Olivet College Church and in third place is NNC's College Church.

Sparkling the NNC contest is the inter-society Sunday School contest. After two Sundays, the

Dr. B. V. Seals To Be Evangelist

Dr. V. B. Seals, district superintendent of the Washington-Pacific District, will be the evangelist during the second semester revival services. The revival will be held March 1-8.

Rev. Eugene Stowe will be in charge of the revival services. Prof. Warnie Tippitt is in charge of music.

According to Dr. John E. Riley, president of the college, Dr. Seals' "many years in the pastorate, the district superintendency, and in evangelism, and his extended service on the Board of Regents give him a unique preparation as our spring evangelist."

Pasternak, Gunther Novels Scheduled For Next Scriblerus Meet

Planned for the March 17 meeting of Scriblerus club is a discussion of Boris Pasternak's novel, DOCTOR SHIVAGO led by Prof. Arthur Manchester. John Gunther's INSIDE RUSSIA TODAY is also on the slate. This discussion will be led by Ben Clouser, a senior education major.

"Leo Tolstoy, His Life and His Works" was the theme for the last meeting of the Scriblerus club on Feb. 17 at the home of Miss Marian Wahburn.

A discussion of ANNA KARENINA and WAR AND PEACE was included in the program. Dick Etulain and Miss Wahburn were in charge of the discussion.

Board of Regents Convene March 11

Meeting on the campus of NNC on March 11 to conduct its semi-annual meeting will be the Board of Regents. Dr. B. V. Seals is chairman of the Board and will call the business meeting to order.

Representatives from each district of the Northwest Educational Zone and from the alumni association make up the Board. Members of the Board will be introduced in chapel on March 11.

Committee meetings will be held March 10. Business of the school will be transacted for the 1959-60 year.

SLA's lead with a percentage of 225. Tied with the SLA's the first Sunday, but falling into second place last Sunday are the Spartans with a gain of 201 per cent.

LSP's hold down the third spot with 194 per cent. The Athenians are fourth with 181 per cent. In fifth place are the Oly's with 175 per cent followed closely by the ADP's with 172 per cent.

A cup is presented to the winning society of this annual contest. Currently in possession of the Sunday School cup is the Spartan society. The cup was won the previous year by the Athenian society.

If the same society wins the cup three times consecutively, it is awarded permanent possession of the cup.

World Events Pass In Review

Secretary of State Dulles' illness came at a serious time. With the Berlin situation as it is, European countries showed much concern over the U.S.'s loss of his leadership in foreign policies. By putting Dulles on "leave of absence," it gives the President a chance to look closely at the prospects for a successor. Let's take a look at the three top prospects.

CHRISTIAN HERTER

Christian Herter is presently the "No. 2" man in the State Department. The fact that he is a Catholic and not too popular with Congress hurts his chances for successorship. He does have the seniority for the job, however.

C. DOUGLAS DILLON

C. Douglas Dillon has a lot of influence with Congress, second only to that of Dulles from the State Department. He comes from a powerful, New England banking family and is a strong economist. The economist Dillon's chances for the job may be helped during this session of Congress when the President is trying to keep spending down.

HENRY CABOT LODGE

Henry Cabot Lodge comes from a long line of statesmen. He, as well as Dillon and Herter, were early supporters of Eisenhower for President in 1952. He is the top ambassador to the U. N., gaining much experience in the foreign policy field while holding this position.

Personally, I would favor Lodge. To name Dillon or Lodge over Herter's head would estrange a small segment of the Republican party to the administration. With his party being in the minority in Congress the president can't afford to lose very much support. Dillon is the favorite of the Senate. It is anybody's guess who will be our next Secretary of State.

MACMILLAN TO RUSSIA

English Prime Minister Macmillan's trip to Russia brought a remembrance of the "peace" trip made by a predecessor, Neville Chamberlain, to Germany before the Second World War. Macmillan is in a little better position to deal with the Reds than Chamberlain was with Hitler.

STATEHOOD FOR HAWAII

I predict that Hawaii will become a state before another president is elected. Although small in size it would increase our prestige with the Oriental peoples of the world. To have Oriental Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States would be a great influence on our relations with the Asian countries.

Hawaii is made up of many different nationalities. Its largest asset is the tourist trade.

WISDOM WHIT FROM WYLNA

By WYLNA MYERS

"And in all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive." Matthew 21:22.

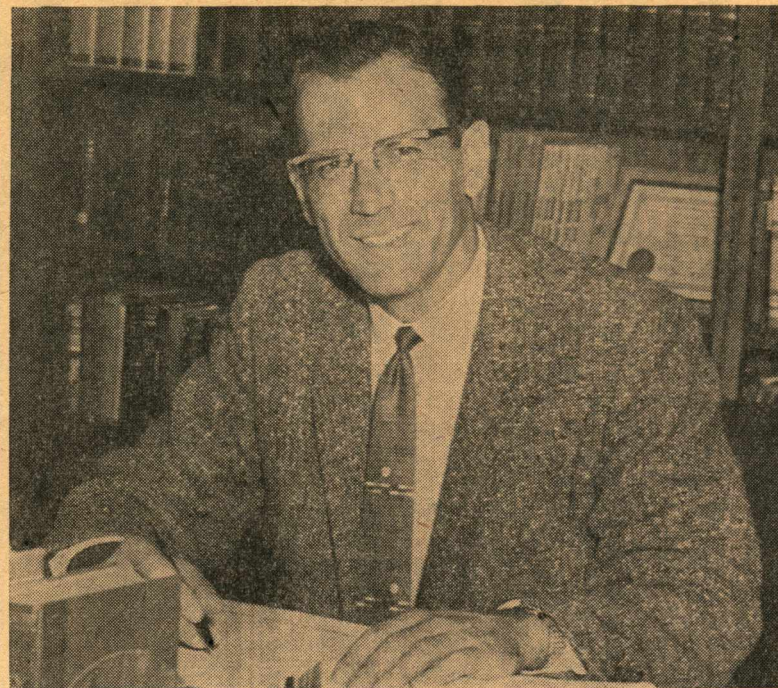

There is nothing in life as powerful as believing prayer and faith in God.

Christ promised us that if we ask in faith believing, we shall receive. Christ will not fail to meet our personal needs if we will believe in Him and have faith.

"In all thy ways acknowledge Him. and He shall direct thy path." Proverbs 3:6.

The Lord is willing to help any one who is ready to trust in Him. When problems come, don't hesitate to take them to the Lord and to ask for His guidance. He will never fail to help you if you give Him a chance. He will show you the right way.

REVIVAL TIME

By REV. EUGENE STOWE

It is encouraging that one of the big topics of conversation around NNC these days is "Revival." Actually, it seems to be rating top billing right up there with the C of I game. And that's the way it ought to be. A few years ago, many religious groups wouldn't be caught dead using the word "revival" or having anything to do with it. But thanks to Billy Graham, many groups are unashamedly talking about and praying for revival.

Actually, there's nothing incompatible between revival and Christian education—or any kind of education, for that matter. Going back to their early history, you find that such great universities as Yale and Harvard and U.S.C. were swept by great revivals again and again. Much of the time their presidents were strong preachers of the Gospel who called the students to repentance and reclamation. Just a few years ago a heaven-sent revival broke out on the campus of Wheaton College. Before it was through, it rated headlines in papers across the country and pictures in Life magazine. Certainly the world has a right to expect that colleges dedicated to Christian education should experience religious revival.

Our holiness revivals are really genuine "Religious Emphasis Weeks." On many campuses such a week is observed each year. In all too many cases they are attended by only a handful of students who are viewed as being somewhat eccentric because of their interest in religious matters. Contrast this with our revivals. Fifty or more students gathering for several weeks at 6:30 a.m. for intercessory prayer . . . round-the-clock prayer in the dorms . . . all classes and extra-curricular activity geared to give first place to the revival services . . . practically every chapel seat filled for these evangelistic meetings . . . all this is revival time at NNC—one of the highest points of the entire school year.

Our alumni have a way of evaluating their college experience from the vantage point of their post-graduation years. It is interesting to note that when they come back to the campus and reminisce about the "good old days" when they were in college almost invariably they talk about the times of revival.

Many of them point back to one particular meeting as the time when they found Christ in definite saving and sanctifying power. Others testify that they really learned how to carry a burden for souls during student body revivals. Before too long you will join the ranks of these alumni and former students. You, too, will make your evaluation of your college days. Perhaps you will recall next week's meeting as the "great" revival of your school experience. If every one of us will put his very best into this campaign, it can be just that!

Remember the Sabbath Day

By JACK WRIGHT

There must be some significance in the fact that God needed only—4 words in regards to killing, but used 94 to tell us to remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy.

God gave us Sunday because man needs to be re-created both physically and spiritually. We need a day in which to draw aside from the cares that infest the day and let our souls catch up with our bodies.

An old miner once exclaimed, "I let my mules spend one day a week outside the mine to prevent them from going blind." The comparison is too obvious for comment.

I suppose it is possible for some people to live victorious Christian lives and not attend church regularly but what is happening to their influence? Jothan was a king who did not go to church. Being a strong man, he still remained morally upright. But others, seeing his example, did not go either. The results were, "And the people did yet corruptly" (II Chronicles 27:2). Don't just live and let live—rather live and help live.

Sunday is a gift from God like the rainbow—treat it with the respect that God's gift deserves.

The harder it is to see, the slower you should drive, advises the All-state Safety Crusade. Reduced speed gives a driver more time to avoid hazardous situations as they arise.

Right Direction Means Everything

By JERRY HULL

"The way we are facing has a lot to do with our destination." At first glance that appears to be an almost "meatless" statement, but as one ponders its importance, he can notice an element of keen insight.

There is nothing actually profound about leaving the Ad building and facing the Library, and in a matter of seconds suddenly we realize that your destination is the building at the corner of Holly and Amity. The real importance of a chosen direction comes in answer to the question, "Which way are you facing life?"

How are you facing life? What is your attitude of your present relationship with God? Which direction are you facing this revival campaign? Just because you go into chapel services every day, close your eyes for a time of prayer preceding each class period, and reverently listen to spiritual instruction does not necessarily mean that you are facing the right direction anymore than the most rejected of sinners.

The way you are facing means everything. For there is no compromise route, you are either facing God or you are not. Don't try to fool yourself for there is danger in rationalizing about your Christian experience.

This article is not written because of any terrible outbreak of violence or other major crises due to sin, but it is because without God as a supreme commander, you are facing the wrong direction.

What a successful year this would be if we were all bound in genuine Christian love, because of this spring revival.

Freshman Quartet Named By VanOrder "The Harmonaires"

By DELORES KALKBRENNER

Five enterprising freshmen fellows posted their pictures in each of the women's dorms this month—not for personal publicity but to give the women an opportunity to submit an original name for the freshman quartet.

The winner and four runners-up were to have an evening of entertainment at the expense of the four vocalists and their pianist.

But no one turned in a suitable name so the "serious member of the group, Jerry VanOrder, named his group "The Harmonaires."

Jerry VanOrder, "Normy," from Cambridge, Idaho, sings first tenor. Education is Jerry's major. A ministerial student, Gary Condon, "Lee," from Pomeroy, Wash., sings second tenor.

A business major from Orofino, Idaho, Neil McKay, "Stevey," takes the baritone part. From nearby Kuna comes Wes Aman, "Richy," who sings bass and is majoring in chemistry. The quartet's accompanist is Jerry Abrams, "Ethan," from Port Angeles, Wash. He is majoring in engineering physics.

"The Harmonaires" have traveled for CWB this year. They have sung at 30 different places for 40 different occasions to date.

Frosh Women Have Study Hall

About 23 freshmen women attended this week's sessions of the new study hall for benches.

According to Mrs. LaVeta Urwin, study supervisor, a number of upper-class women have attended the study period from time to time.

"It is a good quiet place to study," Mrs. Urwin commented.

Sessions are held in room 5 of Elmore Hall from 7 to 9 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. All freshmen girls who are on the bench are expected to report for study. Other women are welcome as long as they want to study.

Mangum Hall Plans Open House

Mangum Hall's dorm council is making plans for Open House. This annual event will occur on March 14. The St. Patrick's Day theme will be carried out through the use of shamrock and green and white flowers.

Each woman resident was honored last night at a birthday party in Mangum. Divided according to her own birthday month, each group was presented some type of entertainment typical of the birthday month for the party.

Delegates Of IRC To Attend Borah Meet At U of I

NNC's chapter of the International Relations Club is planning to send out delegates to the Borah Conference on the Outlawry of War at the University of Idaho at Moscow this spring. Speeches will be given by prominent statesmen and educators. Forums will be held to answer questions of the delegates.

Graduating Seniors Indicate Positions In Teaching Field

Six of this year's graduating class in teacher education at NNC have signed contracts to teach next year, according to Mr. James A. Feltar, director of teacher placement.

Sheila Wells of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, is teaching this semester at Coos Bay, Ore. Miss Wells completed her college work during the first semester.

Two elementary education majors, Peg Jensen of Kearney, Neb., and LaVeta Urwin of Nampa, will teach in the Nampa schools next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Olson have signed contracts to teach in the Fairfield schools. The Olsons are from Bothell, Wash. Mrs. Olson is an elementary education major, while he is a secondary education student majoring in music education.

Assigned to the Portland schools in Portland, Ore., for next year is Larry Halter.

Hadley Hall Dorm Elects New Officers

Hadley Hall women drew up a constitution and elected a dorm council to govern the dormitory this semester.

Headed by Sharon Gibson, new president, the council officers are Glenda Anderson, vice-president and social chairman; and Diana Hoyt, secretary-treasurer.

Edith Ness and Elaine Edwards represent the college women; Anna Marie Johnson and Jan Wilson serve as College High representatives. Glenys Haven is prayer chaplain with Sandra Longcor as her assistant.

Marilyn Slemmer Picked As First Top "Heart Sister"

Marilyn Slemmer, a freshman Hadley Hall resident, was chosen as the "Heart-Sister of the Week." Marilyn was presented with a carnation corsage at the heart-sister revealing party Feb. 21 in Mangum Hall parlor.

Prizes were awarded for the most original, the most humorous, and the prettiest valentine. Pat Price was winner in the most original division. Joyce McConnell topped the most humorous valentine, and Margie Cox had the prettiest valentine.

FRISK VIEWS CHAPMAN HALL

By PHIL FRISK

Two new officers have been elected to complete the dorm council for second semester in Chapman Hall. They are Rich Benner, program chairman; and Marvin Bressler, work chairman.

Men of Chapman were honored recently with a visit by the president's wife, Mrs. John E. Riley. She "came to see how the men were getting along rather than the housekeeping, but every room was presentable for company.

"Since my visit I have been bragging on the tidy rooms and the men's tastes and imaginations in decor — even to the symmetrical arrangement of pop bottles on the radiator. Your dorm must have high morale."

Chapman's high morale is due to the improved constitution and to bi-weekly meetings which include a gripe session.

A year's trial of the freshman domestic duties program revealed weaknesses in the constitution. Revisions have been made to improve these conditions.

Size of Crusader Is Cut To Lower Costs

All further editions of the Crusader this year will be smaller in size. This decrease is necessary in order to stay within the Crusader budget.

"However, we hope to pack just as much news in our smaller issues," states Dorothy Mittleider, editor. "We can do this if we are careful to be concise and still not detract from completeness and clearness."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tracy are the parents of a boy, Mark Alvin, born Feb. 17. Tracy is a senior this year, and Mrs. Tracy is employed as secretary at College High school.

Coach Hills Believes Education Should Have A Four Fold Aspect

By RUTH OLIN

When you see a good-looking man on campus who is "thin on top, six feet tall" with blue eyes and weighing 178 pounds, it is probably Coach Orrin Hills. He is the professor who believes that education is fourfold: it should contain the physical, mental and emotional, social, and spiritual aspects of life.

Orrin E. Hills, head coach of the physical education department, better known simply as "Coach Hills," is not quite sure why he became a teacher. He had originally intended to make farming his career and still loves to be around livestock.

His mother's encouragement started him at NNC and then kept him coming until he graduated. The year 1955 found him receiving his master's degree from the University of Oregon. After serving on the Boise High School faculty, Coach Hills accepted his present position at NNC.

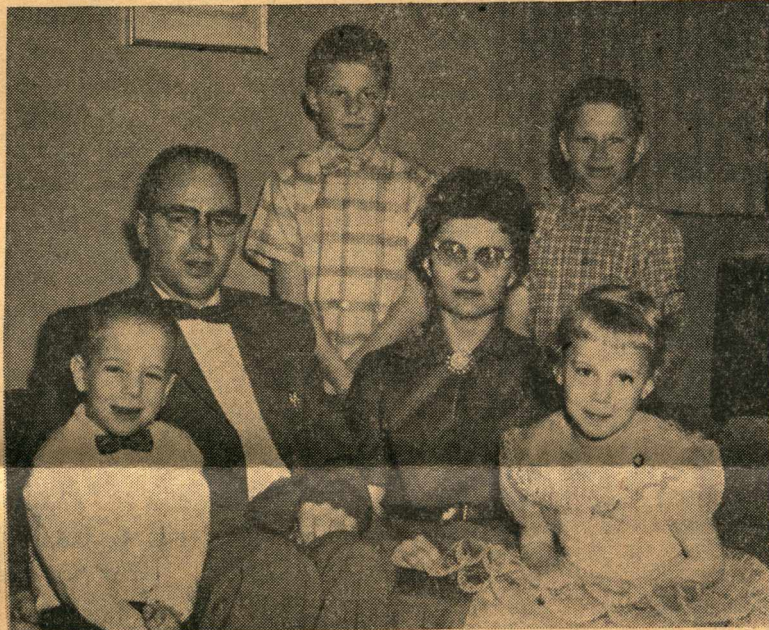

He is now in his sixth year here and enjoys every minute. In his own words he says: "I'm very glad I had the opportunity to serve youth which I would never have had if I had not obeyed my mother's wish to take one year in college at NNC."

his further comment. Gary, Lynn, Sharlene, and Steve now complete the Hills family on Middleton Road two miles west of Nampa. They help their dad care for the cow, calf and dozen chickens that now share their two-acre ranch there.

In regard to their move to the country, Mr. Hills asserted: "That is why we got out there — because of the children. Talk about TV, I don't think we've had it on five times since we moved out there."

Coach Hills admitted that he spends most of his spare time working in the area of sports, especially basketball and track. He used to play the clarinet but is now content to listen to good religious music such as the Blackwood Quartet recordings. "I've always liked to cook but I don't get to do very much of that any more," he adds. He and his wife both love the out-of-doors and enjoy themselves in various ways with outdoor activities whenever opportunity affords.

When I asked Mr. Hills if he would like to offer some advice to the students attending NNC, the words began to flow into a pattern of life that I wish everyone could have heard as I heard it. He expressed grave concern for

Coach and Mrs. Hills, Steve, Gary, Lynn, and Sharlene

Family

As one of four boys with six sisters in the Hills' family, Orrin Hills saw much of the U.S. with his family as they migrated from the place of his birth in Twin Falls, Idaho. His parents originally took their family to a community church until they moved to another city and decided they needed a church home. They visited all the churches in that city and finally decided on the Nazarene Church. Now all of the Hills are either active in or attending a Nazarene Church.

Wife and Children

Mr. Hills met Esther Mills, who is now his wife, here at NNC. "Our first date was a result of an evening spent in the library," was those who live shallow lives and do things that do not seemingly even bother their conscience, such as borrowing things without permission or taking library books without checking them out.

He feels that the real preparation for life should be the solid moral foundation which should be strengthened by honest and conscientious living habits now. He thinks this would solve many problems that must be faced later on.

Perhaps his thoughts can best be expressed in the verse of scripture which means much to Coach Hills and is the one that his mother quoted to him when he first left for college: "In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths." (Prov. 3:6)

This weekend is tournament weekend. The Mills-Cunningham tourney winds up another season tomorrow night, and it looks as if a real wind-up is in store. The strong favorites are the ADP's and the LSP's with the Athenians and Oly's rubbing the rabbits foot harder than ever.

Individual sports need co-signers for participation, so sign up and learn a game to occupy those leisure hours at 70.

BACKWARD GLANCE

The ethereal wit of our vice president's gray matter stilled the cheering fans last Feb. 6. The occasion was a halftime performance displaying the fall classic—football. Two intramural teams paired off to give the fans a taste of a real game but one backfield man stole the show with a neat end run that ended with a cry for help. Due to difficulties beyond his control, the halfback retired under the applause of the spectators.

The halftime classic under the direction of Larry Halter set the tone for the second semester basketball season. Though not as rugged as football, we have noticed another layer of varnish disappear from the gym turf these past few weeks.

ATHENIANS WIN CUP

With the winning of the loving cup, the Athenians have caught fire. Under the Jack—"You guys play zone, I'll rest"—Wright, the Athenians have moved from fourth to a tie for first with the ADP's.

Second semester phenomena finds the scoring Ernie Thompson and George Harper pushing Oscar Robertson for top scoring honors. The SLA vs. Athenian game, in which Dick Etulain scored with two seconds to tie it up and go in to three overtimes and one cold supper—with the Athenians finally pulling it out—seems to be the game of this season. Not to be brushed aside are the Oly's win over the LSP's in an overtime and the heartbreakers lost by the Spartans in overtimes.

With the season over we find the ADP's and Athenians tied for first with a 4 and 1 record, followed by the LSP's and Oly's in a tie for second. The SLA's have fifth and the Spartans are sixth.

TEAM STANDINGS

The ADP's for the second consecutive semester tied for the men's basketball crown. Final standings for second semester are:

	Won	Lost
ADP	4	1
Athenian	4	1
Oly	4	1
LSP	3	2
SLA	1	4
Spartan	0	5

TOP SCORERS

George Harper	Spa.	126
Ernie Thompson	ADP	109
Jerry Caven	ADP	89
Les Tindall	ADP	87
Perry Winkle	LSP	82
Don Ogburn	Oly	78
Orval Swanson	SLA	75
Wes Aman	Ath.	65
Cec Campbell	LSP	58
Jerry Hull	LSP	52

The ADP's were the top offensive team scoring an average of 66 points per game, while the LSP's led the defensive department allowing their opponents only 42 points a game.

Ernie Thompson had the highest one game total of 35 when the ADP's beat the SLA's 83-50.

Top Basketball Scorers Listed

Orville Andersen of Seattle Pacific College had to turn in two 30-plus scoring performances last week to hold his lead in the Northwest collegiate basketball tally derby.

Andersen boosted his average almost a full point, to 23.1 per game. His main challenger now is Frank Burgess of Gonzaga, hitting at a 22-point clip. Ray Washburn of Whitworth remains in the scramble with a 21.7 average.

Six players are averaging better than 18 points per game. They include Roger Iverson of Pacific Lutheran, Bob Moreno of College of Idaho, and Jack Riley of Linfield. Washington's Doug Smart, at 17.9, is just off the pace. Our own Tom Tracy is included in the top ten with an average of 17.6.

	G	TP	Ave.
Andersen, Seattle Pacific	22	509	23.1
Burgess, Gonzaga	19	418	22.0
Washburn, Whitworth	22	478	21.7
Iverson, Pacific Lutheran	19	360	18.9
Moreno, College of Idaho	19	357	18.8
Riley, Linfield	20	368	18.4
Smart, Univ. of Washington	20	358	17.9
Tracy, Northwest Nazarene	25	440	17.6

Crusader Capers

BEAT C OF I — and the Crusaders' are off to the NAIA District 5 tournament in Montana March 3-4. Tonight's winner will be the Idaho representative to the four-team tournament, with the eventual winner of that tournament gaining a trip to Kansas City.

Rivalry will be at its highest, when these traditional foes meet once again. In two close and exciting previous contests, the teams have split, C of I winning the first 66-59, with NNC coming back to win their Homecoming game 79-76.

The Crusaders will be at a disadvantage because (1) play will be in Caldwell, and (2) of the loss of Bob Peppley, second leading scorer, by a wrist injury. Despite these difficulties, you may rest assured that NNC will give C of I all they can handle.

The past two weeks NNC has played four games, winning three and losing one, giving them a seasonal record of 17-8.

WESTMINSTER

On Feb. 13, the Crusaders partially repaid a debt they owed Westminster by easing past them 62-60 on Tom Tracy's last-second basket.

Bob Peppley	15
Gene Oberg	8
Sam Willard	11
Tom Tracy	18
Ben Clouser	4

The following night NNC made two in a row over the visiting Parsons from Salt Lake City by beating them 66-56.

Peppley	20
Oberg	15
Tracy	17
Willard	7
Phil White	3

ST. MARTIN'S

Feb. 21 the Hillsmen lost to the invading St. Martin's Rangers 85-82 in an overtime tilt. The NNC five also sustained the loss of Bob Peppley who broke his wrist after being hit while making a lay-in.

Peppley	8
Dave Hanson	8
Oberg	11
Willard	20
Tracy	22

With five players scoring in the double figures, the Crusaders came back Saturday night to defeat the Washington team 86-70.

Willard	14
Hanson	10
Oberg	13
Tracy	27
Al Freeman	12

Down The Lane

By DICK ETULAIN

The IDAHO FREE PRESS, November 20, 1959.

Sports Headlines: NNC Closes Out Their First Football Season With An Impressive Win Over Their Rival College of Idaho.

This interesting headline sounds feasible, but improbable. Why? An old proverb reads: "Where there's a will, there's a way." Will it work here? Certainly it is doubtful because of that old nemesis called finances.

Recent statistics in sports magazines tell us that it would cost nearly $125 per man to outfit him for football. Since it takes about 25 suits for a team, it would cost over $3,000 just to outfit the team.

College of Idaho spends $12,000 for transportation alone, so we can see that we have an extremely expensive problem on our hands. Such things as coaches, insurance, lights, field, and incidentals would also add to an already enormous amount.

One must also consider the stand that the Church would take toward such a movement. There certainly is a wide basis of opinion within the Church toward intercollegiate athletics.

Some, such as our district and Pasadena's district, have shown that they will allow sports as long as they don't interfere with the moral and ethical standards of the Church; but I'm afraid that other districts don't feel the same way that we do. A football movement, I feel, would bring a great deal of negative pressure from them.

Other Side

Thus far everything has seemed negative, but I definitely feel that there is also a brighter side. I agree it will be expensive, but I also feel that it could be a beneficial undertaking.

Here is one plan: set up how much the initial costs would come to, then raise this amount; figure how much it would cost to play football each year, raise this amount by annual pledges from interested alumni and townsmen to pay the yearly expenses incurred by playing football. A figment of a twisted mind? No, I actually feel that this could work.

This week I've asked many students if they would be in favor of football at NNC and nearly 100 per cent answered positively, so we see that as a whole the students want football.

This is important for: recently Westminster College in Salt Lake City was going to abandon football because of the costs, but interested students got together and raised nearly $9,000 by penny campaigns to keep the sport upon their campus.

You see, personally I feel that football could be a possibility at

First Call For Varsity Tennis To Be Given on March 2

First call for varsity tennis will be made March 2. There are six women returning from last year's team, and three returning lettermen on the men's team.

Women returning from last year's team are Dorothy Mittleider, Martha Hopkins, Mary Wallace, Harriet Burkheimer, Minnie Humphrey, and Orrene Maurer. Others expected to turn out for the team are Carmen Gilmore, Ruth Watkins, Shirley Thompson, Penny Lisk, Mary Lee Lester, and Margie Cox.

The women have a 14-2 record and will be working to increase their number of wins as they play C of I and BJC. They will also participate in the Northwest College Tennis Tournament at the University of Oregon and the NNC Invitational Meet to be held May 2.

George Harper, Dave Hanson, Jim Bateman, Dan Etulain, and Jack Wright are returning for the men's team this year. Bateman and Etulain are lettermen from two years ago.

A larger schedule is planned for the men this year. Playing BJC and C of I as in other years, they are adding Whitman on April 10 and will make one road trip. They will also participate in the NNC Invitational Meet.

Annual Tourney Held This Weekend

By MARY WALLER

In the first round of the annual Hibbard-Long-Wesche basketball tournament yesterday, the Athenians beat the LSP's and the Oly's beat the SLA's.

The Spartans and the ADP's drew a bye in the first round of play. Today at 3:55 p.m. the Spartans will play the Athenians and at 4:50 p.m. the Oly's will play the ADP's. The winners of this game will play for the championship on Saturday night.

Last year the Spartans and the ADP's played in the championship game with the ADP's winning the game. Will we have a repeat in history? Will the Spartans win this time? Or will one or both be beaten in the semi finals today? History will be made this weekend.

Weldon Wood Transfers To NNC

Northwest Nazarene College's basketball hopes took a rise with the arrival of Weldon Wood, University of Idaho reserve forward, and former Nampa High School cager.

Wood, who transferred to NNC, is a junior scholastically, and has two more years of athletic eligibility. He went out for the Vandal varsity last year but was held out to extend his eligibility for another year. This year "Woody" made the regular traveling squad but was used sparingly by Idaho Coach Harlan Hodges.

A graduate of Nampa High School, Wood lettered two years in both basketball and football and was All-Conference his senior year in both sports. He played end on the football team and was starting center on the cage team.

In "Woody's" junior year his team lost the basketball championship to Boise and was undefeated in football conference competition.

In his senior year, the Bulldogs lost to Caldwell for the football championship and won the cage title. During his senior year Wood averaged 15 points per game in basketball.

"Woody" stands 6' 4" and displayed his aggressiveness when the Vandals played Utah State in Boise in December.

His major at the University was economics and, "I plan to major in business here," he said.

NNC only if it can be proven to be a financial success. This depends primarily on whether or not you—the student body—want football. — "Where there's a will there's a way."

Extramural Team Defeats Grandview

Chalking up another win, the women's extramural basketball team defeated Grandview 62-51 on Feb. 18 at Grandview.

Grandview's tight defense kept the game close. At the end of the first half the Crusaderettes were leading by six points.

Top scorers were Mary Waller, Martha Hopkins, and Carmen Gilmore.

Outscoring Grandview from both the floor and the free throw line, the Crusaderettes made 12 out of 19 free throws for 63 per cent while Grandview made 5 out of 19 for 28 per cent.

Making the trip were Martha Hopkins, Mary Waller, Lois Gardner Dorothy Mittleider, Mary Lee Lester, Ruth Watkins, Harriet Burkheimer, Minnie Humphrey, Carmen Gilmore, Marilyn Kaelke, and Miss Wanda Rhodes.

ADP, Spartan Women Tie For First Place

Spartan women scored 53 points but had to default the ball game to the ADP's when the Spartans lost a player on five fouls. The win put the two teams in a tie for first place for second semester basketball championship.

With one minute left to play and the score tied 53 to 53, a fifth foul was called on a Spartan guard. Martha Hopkins made the free throw for the ADP's making the score 54 to 53.

	Wins	Losses
ADP	4	1
Spartan	4	1
Athenian	3	2
Oly	3	2
LSP	1	4
SLA	1	4

Four Seniors Play Last Game

By DICK ETULAIN

Tom Tracy, Sam Willard, Dave Hanson, and Ben Clouser will be playing their last game for NNC tonight against College of Idaho. It is with a sense of gratitude that we salute these seniors, for each in his own way has added something to this year's team.

"TOMO", we have all the respect in the world for you. Your desire to play ball, your leadership abilities, your amiable personality, and your sound Christian experience behoove each one of us to do better. Best of luck as a teacher, "Trace!"

SAM, we won't soon forget your witty personality. The innocence personified, the slow and sober movements, and the testimony you have left behind: these will go together to remind us of the swell fellow we knew called Sam.

DAVE, you've inspired us this year with your renewed spirit on the ball floor. We certainly realize in you a determination that will prove you to be a success. "Drake" your team spirit has added a great deal.

BEN, we have one large compliment to give to you. This season we've noticed that you've conquered yourself. Maybe you didn't crack that starting line-up, but you did accomplish that which will help you throughout your life. And, well . . . we're glad for you, Ben.
