SLA'S AHEAD

Next Sunday Ends SS Contest; LaFayette Park Still Holds Lead

This coming Sunday is the last Sunday of the three-way Sunday School contest. Lafayette Park Church in St. Louis, Mo., is currently in the lead with a 75 per cent gain.

College Church of Nampa is in second place with a 23% gain. In third place is Olivet College Church of Kankakee, Ill., with a 6% gain.

Society-wise, the SLA's continue to lead with a percentage of 363. Moving into the second spot are the LSP's with 314 per cent; followed closely by the Spartan society with 311 per cent.

Fourth place Athenians have gained 109 per cent for a total of 290. In fifth place are the Oly's with 269 per cent; and in sixth place with 259 per cent are the ADP's.

Science Students Study Hampsters

Currently enrolled science students are making a study this semester of the physiological effects of Serotonin on the organs of the body. This study was made possible through a grant given to NNC by the Idaho Heart Association.

Hampsters were chosen for the test. During the next four or five weeks the animals will receive several injections of Serotonin (5-Hydroxytryptamine), a product of metabolism and carcinoid (cancerous) tumors.

The hampsters will then be sacrificed and microscopic slides will be taken from various organs and studied for the effects of the Serotonin.

Lisk is a pre-medical student and Miss Poole is a biological science major. The experiment is under the direction of Dr. Alvin Aller and Prof. Loring Beals.

CIRCLE K ELECTS HUDSON, HOFF

Newest plans are for a banquet in honor of the downtown Kiwanis club sometime in May. Circle K will handle the details of organization and provide the program.

Mangum Hall Holds Open House Tomorrow

Guests will be received from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. tomorrow night at Mangum Hall's open house. The Hall will take on the appearance of a bit of Ireland as the women decorate the Hall in white and green for the St. Patrick's Day theme.

Co-chairmen for the event are Beverly Bullock, a junior from Ferguson Falls, Minn., and Joan Soderholm, a junior from Minneapolis, Minn.

Dorm president, Jerrie Waller, will be head hostess assisted by wing hostesses Diane Barlow, Mary Crum, Joan Horne, and Ethel Stover.

Bertha Sheppard, Eugene Good Are Winners

Two freshmen, Bertha Sheppard and Eugene Good, were picked this week as the "most improved" waitress and waiter of the week. A free dinner at The Royal in Boise was given to them by Mr. Cushman Flagg, manager of Saga Food Company.

The couple were chosen by the head kitchen committee, Mr. Flagg, Kathy Hicks, and Leroy Trowbridge.

The choice was based on service, proper etiquette, alertness, and all-round improvement.

SNEA Delegates Attend IEA Meet

Delegates from the Student National Education Association will attend the Idaho Education Association meeting in Boise. This will be held April 17.

Chosen to represent NNC's SNEA chapter are Mrs. Laveta Urwin, Dave Freisen, Ethel Kraft, Carol Gray, Lorraine Paul, Norma Humphrey, Bill Leggett, and Barbara Urwin.

Chapter pins have arrived and are currently being distributed among club members according to Dave Freisen, club president.

SENIORS, SOPHS GIVEN TESTS

Again this year a set of examinations will be administered to evaluate the general educational achievement of the sophomores and seniors and the mastery of their major fields by the seniors.

On the morning of April 10 both seniors and sophomores will take the Area Tests of the Graduate Record Examination. These tests will attempt to measure the individual's grasp of basic concepts and his ability to apply them in interpreting a variety of types of materials in social science, humanities, and natural science. In the afternoon, the sophomores will take the Co-operative English Test.

ADVANCED TESTS

On the following morning, each senior will take the Graduate Record Advanced Test in his major field if such a test is published. Otherwise, he will take the comprehensive examination prepared by the teachers of his major department.

Seniors will meet in the dining room for their tests on Friday morning. Sophomores will meet in the Administration Building Friday afternoon. Saturday morning seniors will complete their tests in the library.

HEADED BY TILLOTSON

These tests will be administered under standard conditions by members of the faculty under the supervision of Mr. Donald Tillotson, head of the Testing Bureau. The answer sheets will be scored by the Education Testing Service which publishes the Graduate Record Examination, and the results and reports will be ready early in May.

Each student will receive a card containing the results of his tests and a booklet to explain and interpret the scores. The college will receive reports for each student and summary sheets and norms to enable faculty and administration to assess the achievement of NNC students in comparison with those from many other institutions.

The sophomores will find the results of the tests valuable in planning their upper division programs.

The seniors may use them in considering the advisability of graduate study. To the administration and faculty, these scores will provide an objective basis for evaluating the effectiveness of the total program and of the major curriculums.

EXAMS SCHEDULED; EASTER RECESS SET

Mid-semester exams will be given March 16-20.

Easter vacation begins March 24 at 4 p.m. Classes will resume on March 31.

Crusader Choir Tour Arranged Mar. 20-29

Crusader Choir will give a program of religious classics and hymn arrangements in churches and schools on its annual tour. The tour begins March 19 and concludes March 29.

Under the direction of Prof. Wannie Tippitt and sponsored by L. Wesley Johnson, the choir will present several numbers.

Included in the program will be "The Heavens are Telling" by F. J. Hayden; "Jesus Joy of Man's Desiring" by Johann Bach; Richard Wagner's "Hail Bright Abode", and "Third Word — from Seven Last Words," by Dubois.

"Ain't That Good News" by Dawson, and Goodwin's arrangement of "Longing For Jesus," along with "Ivory Palaces" arranged by Soderstrom are also included.

The tour will take the choir through Washington, Oregon, and Idaho.

Music Finals Listed For Today

Finals for second semester's instrumental music contest are scheduled today. The events included instrumental ensembles, organ solos and piano solos. Instrumental ensembles finals were held during chapel today. Organ solo finals are set for 4 p.m. and piano solo finals at 4:45 p.m.

Finalists in the instrumental ensembles were Anna Mae Bauerle-Larry Embury, ADP; Sharon Saturn-Ellen McUne, Oly; Mary Ann Kemper-Barbara Bosley, LSP; Sharan Perkins-Barbara Kiel, Athenian; and Evelyn Sanner-Carolyn Younger, SLA.

At 4 p.m. today organ soloists will be Edna Cramer, ADP; Ellen McUne, Oly; Peg Jensen, LSP; Barbara Kiel, Athenian; and Florryann Pywell, Spartan.

Miss Lancaster Chosen To Appear In "Who's Who"

Miss Edith Lancaster, head librarian, was recently chosen to "Who's Who In American Education." Her biographical sketch will appear in the 1959-60 edition of the book.

Chosen to "Who's Who" for her library work, Miss Lancaster has been on the NNC staff since 1956.

Trevecca Nazarene College awarded Miss Lancaster her bachelor of arts degree. She received her master's degree in library science from George Peabody College and has previously served as assistant librarian at Trevecca Nazarene College.

Speech Finalists Chosen For Today

As the Crusader goes to press, a few of today's finalists for this semester's intramural speech contest are yet to be chosen.

Selected for Shakespearean dialogue were Edna Cramer-Lee Moseley, ADP; Jack Thomas-Les Shelton, Athenian; and David Rinker-Marilyn Franklin, Spartan.

SANNER SERMON AWARD OUTLINED

Details for the A. E. Sanner Sermon Award were released this week. The award is for $50 to the graduating ministerial student who writes and presents the best sermon.

Contestants are to submit written sermons from 2,500 to 3,000 words in length by April 15. These will be read and the top three will be selected for oral presentation to the judging committee.

Judges will include five persons representing the division of philosophy and religion, the faculty at large, and the college administration.

Any graduating ministerial student is eligible. Preference will be given to those students who have had a course in homiletics.

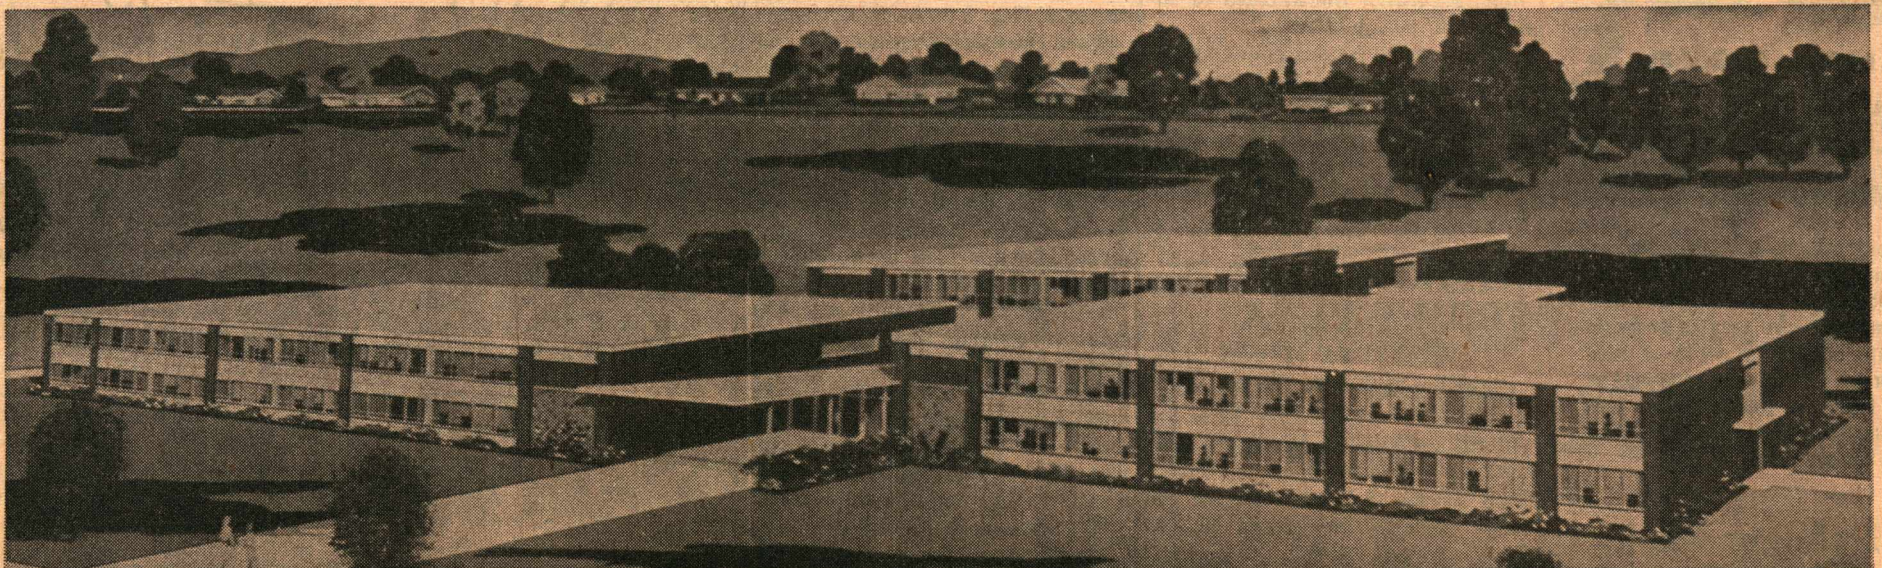

This award will be presented for the first time this year at the last chapel service.

MR. TONY WINTHER SCHEDULED TO SPEAK AT FBLA MEET

Mr. Tony Winther of Winther Music Company will demonstrate some of the latest equipment in Stereo and Hi-Fi at the next Future Business Leaders of America Club meeting.

The meeting will be held at Elmore Hall at 7:30 p.m. on March 24.

During the business session of this meeting, members will vote for the outstanding FBLA member of the year. The winner's name will be inscribed on the plaque which was obtained last year by the business club. Qualifying persons are nominated by the council.

A MORAL RESPONSIBILITY

By MRS. LORRAINE GUNDERSON

Philosophers and thinking people have long been concerned with the gap between ethics and politics. The exercise of freedom is a relative action but even relative freedom will be lost without the willingness of a people to practice moral vigilance. The German poet, Goethe, said to his generation when they were undergoing a threat to freedom: "What you have inherited from your fathers, earn over again for yourselves or it will not be yours." Today when man has learned to control nature but failed to control himself, this advice flashes an echoing warning.

Freedom set forth by our founding fathers doesn't denote the free and easy but freedom purchased by intense thought and the sustained effort necessary to preserve any measure of liberty.

Most people avoid politics unless they have a personal interest or an ax to grind. Most people are hemmed in with human needs—immediate and worthy everyday demands. Adlai Stevenson wrote that it takes an extra dimension of vision to see beyond the inner circle which surrounds each person.

The urgent need is for each citizen to accept his moral obligations in government; it is mandatory to set to work the energies of a free society—not by any fiat of government—but of self-examination and dedication to the task of solving the great issues of our time.

YOUR PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Strive For Intellectual Curiosity Now

By JERRY HULL

One outstanding quality of a person is intellectual curiosity." In regard to this I thought of all the emphases that have been made in this article this year. And it seems that perhaps we have overlooked one of the most important aspects of the student's life, that of attempting to enhance one's intellectual powers.

I would surely not underestimate the importance of social and religious developments that will affect us in our future days.

In speaking of "intellectual curiosity" we mean more than reading your class assignments each day. If we could only create the desire to LEARN while we are in college, we might earn our diploma; but if we merely do the required, I wonder if the graduation honor should be ours.

If we could have "intellectual curiosity" in the three following areas we would be profited: (1) our conversation; (2) listening to speakers and lecturers; and (3) reading.

Speaking as one who has almost completed three years of college work, I conclude unless I learn many times more in the one remaining year, I will just be beginning to scratch the surface of intellectual possibilities.

As we strive for social and spiritual improvement let's not forget to develop "intellectual curiosity." "If you would like to leave footprints in the sands of time, you had better wear (intellectual) work shoes."—Sunshine Magazine.

World Events Pass In Review

Present Secretary of State Dulles has recommended to the President that he favors Christian Herter. But again something else has come up on the minus side of the ledger and that is that Herter's arthritis has grown bad enough so that he has been using crutches lately.

Dulles has been having top level conferences in his hospital room concerning the Berlin crisis.

The Army Chiefs at the Pentagon have been staying up late at night planning strategy. The defense of Berlin, if aggression should occur, will rest on their shoulders.

CONGRATULATIONS

... to Senator Tom Dodd, Connecticut Democrat, for his speech supporting the present foreign policy concerning the inflexible stand in Berlin. He said in effect that to be compromising in this crisis would be another step toward sealing our own doom. The American out on the street doesn't realize the seriousness of the Berlin crisis.

He mentioned that we should take note of the backward steps taken 40 years ago when the Ukraine could have been saved by aggressive statesmanship. Likewise, Poland, 13 years ago; China, 10 years ago; and Indo-China, 5 years ago.

STATE TAXES

There has been complaining in every state where state taxes have been heading for an increase. Most noticeable complaining has been in the states of New York and Washington.

MACMILLAN

Russia proved to the world that it is very evil in its methods. They did this by verbally stabbing Prime Minister Macmillan in the back.

While the British head of state was touring some of Russia's industrial regions Khrushchev made a speech denouncing the stand-fast attitude that Britain and the U.S. have taken over the Berlin situation. He claimed that while he had been making various proposals to ease tension, the Prime Minister would not back down on a single thing.

He also denounced Konrad Adenauer as not being a Christian because he insists on denying the people of West Germany the care of the "peace-loving" Communists.

Did You Know

Did you know . . .

That the senior class president, Don Thompson, was in Saudia Arabia for two years with the Air Force?

That Mr. L. W. Johnson won the blue ribbon in the 100-yard dash in Nebraska's state high school tournament and placed second in the high jump? In fact, our business manager can still run fast; that is, when prospective students are in sight.

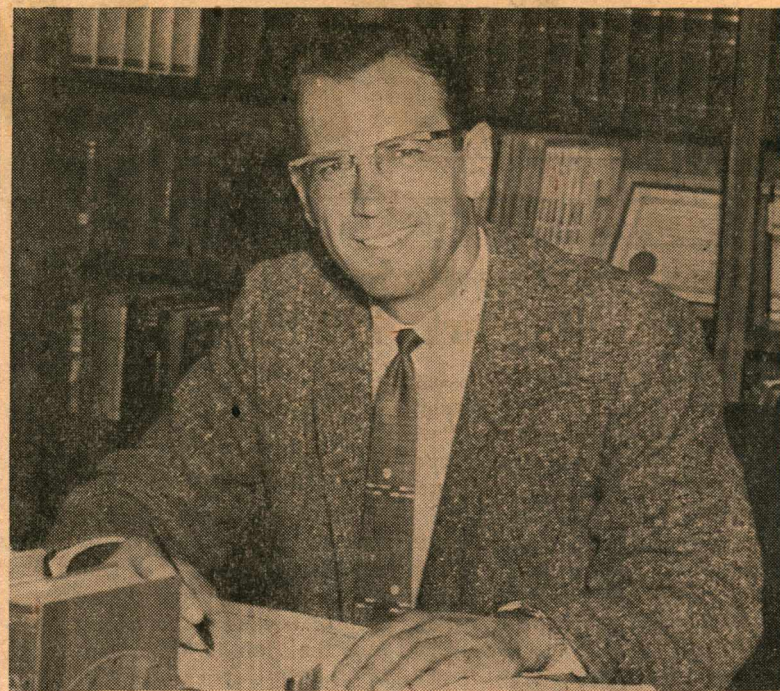

That Dave Mattson was the concert pianist at the famous Kimball Hall in Chicago? When he was in high school Dave and his date received the title of the "cutest couple" at a banquet.

That the junior class dominates the most four point G.P.A. students with six? The senior class is second with five and one with 3.94? The sophomores have two rating four point? Only one in the freshman class has a G.P.A. of 3.94?

That Sandra Longcor, freshman, won the Nevada State "Home-maker of Tomorrow" contest and was sent to Washington, D. C., as a candidate in the national contest?

NNC's FINEST HOUR

By REV. EUGENE STOWE

I was chatting over the luncheon table with the chaplain of a nearby college some time ago. In the course of our conversation we discussed the attitude of our students toward those on the other campus. One of his statements stopped me cold. He said, "Most of our students think of all of yours as being evangelists." From the tone of his voice I gathered that this was not intended to be a compliment. At first I rather resented this charge. But the more I have thought about it, the more I have come to feel that in reality this is a high compliment.

Webster defines an evangelist as one who spreads the Gospel (good news). Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John are known as evangelists because of their "Gospels." In effect, every earnest Christian who endeavors to spread the good news of Christ and salvation is an evangelist. Whether he preaches from a pulpit or witnesses at home, school, or work, his first vocation is to point others to the Saviour.

NNC has a number of traditional events which might well be called her finest hours. Among these are:

HOMECOMING—when before the queen and her court and a jam-packed gym of enthusiastic rooters the Crusader varsity walks off the floor with a decisive win over our traditional rivals;

THE LAST CHAPEL—highly emotional hour when the choice honors of the year are given to NNC's choicest students;

COMMENCEMENT—the long academic procession in dignified caps and gowns marching "the last mile" of another college year.

But fine as these are, they are not NNC's "finest hour." I submit that this accolade must be reserved for still another event. Actually, it is not just one specific hour. It is a composite picture made up of several scenes.

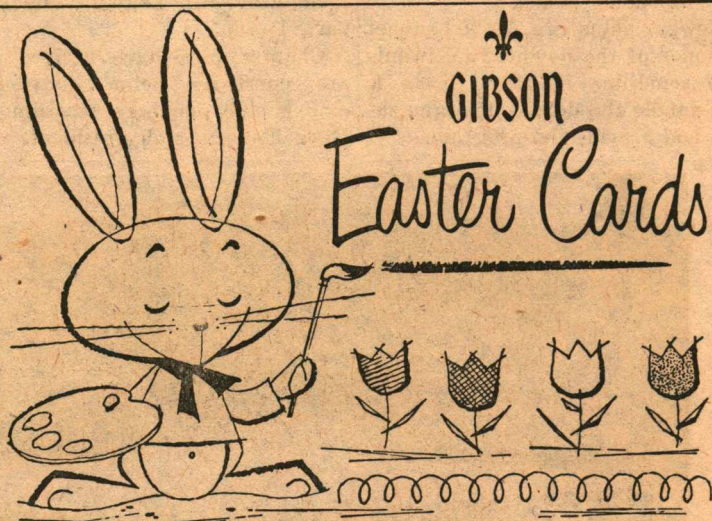

... Fifty students keeping a pre-dawn rendezvous with God around the chapel altar for a period of several weeks as they intercede for the souls of their fellow students;

... A bean-pole basketball player talking earnestly to a teammate during a revival invitation, then walking down the long College Church aisle with him to lead him to Christ;

... Faculty members (who are first Christians and then dedicated scholars) kneeling with their "problem children" and patiently helping them to pray through to settle experiences with God.

Yes, I propose that all this is NNC's FINEST HOUR! The hour when every Christian on campus is caught up in the thrilling work of evangelism. This is an activity which cannot be rewarded with a "letter" or a semester hour of credit. Some of its compensation comes immediately. Someone described the experience of winning a soul as being "like getting saved all over again myself!" And that's really joy unspeakable. But part of the evangelist's reward is made of eternal stuff, and that's logical for he is dealing with the eternal part of man. The prophet Daniel wrote, "they that turn many to righteousness (shall shine) as the stars forever and ever."

For many a year many of us will turn back in memory to the week of March 1-8, 1959. In this great revival NNC became a college of evangelists. Here we found the real justification for the school's existence. Under the spell of the Spirit, we saw life in its true perspective. And it will take all of eternity to fully reveal all the results of this . . . NNC's FINEST HOUR.

PROFESSOR SHARP GIVES 26 YEARS OF SERVICE AT NNC

By RUTH OLIN

Though he has been teaching at NNC for about 26 years, Prof. Guy Estel Sharp, head of the Department of Sociology, still displays active interests in youthful hobbies. He can be found many evenings on his four acres west of Nampa working with his horses and prize hogs.

His favorite hobby, horseback riding, competes with hunting and fishing for his spare time. He plans on spending time this summer at his mountain cabin at Deadwood.

Prof. Sharp has spent 26 years in the teaching saddle at NNC, his alma mater. While a college student, he was student body vice-president. After graduation, he joined NNC's staff as Dean of Men. Later he taught religion and then sociology, where he now finds his most satisfying teaching.

Before entering NNC, Prof. Sharp crossed the Atlantic six times in service to his country in the First World War. Between graduation from college and his return as a counselor and teacher, he obtained his master's degree from the University of Idaho and pastored in Nazarene churches for 12 years.

FAMILY

Prof. and Mrs. Sharp have three daughters, Mrs. Joanne Latter, Mrs. Carol Cowley, and Harriet, who is a junior at College High. Joanne is the mother of grandfather Sharp's pride and joy grandchildren, Carol and Freddie.

Subjects which Prof. Sharp teaches are introductions to modern sociology, delinquency, rural sociology, rural anthropology, and race relations.

He said he would like to teach more about the Saviour of the world. He believes that the criteria of success is in finding oneself following the Master, striving earnestly to fulfill His commandments by obeying Him completely. He maintains too that good judgment and hard work will help anyone to attain this status of ideal Christian living.

If you should pass a professor about 5'7" tall wearing glasses, with light hair both "in quality and quantity" sauntering toward either his classroom or his library office, he could be quoting to himself some verse from his favorite chapter of the Bible—the 55th chapter of Isaiah. The verse he remembered best as I sat before him in his office bears repeating: "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near."

Professor and Mrs. Sharp and Harriet.

Three Main Characteristics Of Great College Professors Told

By MARY WALLER

In your opinion what are the three main characteristics of a truly great college professor?

Larry Hull: Know the subject; give the students a desire to learn; and continue to study and keep up to date in the subject.

Mrs. Phil Mason: Gives ideas of the subjects and doesn't dwell entirely on the book; shows a Christian attitude in teaching; and keeps up to date and continues to study.

Leona Barnes: Inspire interest in subject that is being taught; understands the problems of the students; and keeps up-to-date in teaching and in field.

Al Freeman: Knows the subject; is reasonable; and brings the subject down to the students level.

Lynn Riley: Thorough knowledge of the field; ability to get along with the students; and a sense of humor.

Lois Draper: Personal interest in the students; friendliness; and spirituality.

Mrs. Gunderson: Belief in democracy without the necessity to believe that this country alone is God's special care and province; belief in the basic capacity for dignity of all human beings; and con-

Bennetts Review NNC Campus Life

By JERRI WALLER

Rev. and Mrs. Merrill Bennett, recently returned missionaries from Japan, revisited NNC's campus at graduation last spring and again this winter to participate in the Mangum Missionary Lectures. They found the atmosphere and spirit of the students as high and friendly as it was 10 years ago when they were students here.

Mrs. Bennett, after visiting a dorm party in Morrison Hall, remarked that there weren't as many outward restrictions as when she was living in that dorm. "Nevertheless, conduct was very high. There isn't as much restriction from above; they seem to give the students more responsibility for themselves."

Rev. Merrill Bennett noticed that the girls enjoyed greater freedom of dress now—particularly in pedal pushers. Myrtle Belle, his wife, answered that this wasn't especially greater freedom, as the girls wore them for relaxation within their own dormitories and for P.E. She added they were a great improvement over the culottes that her class had to wear for P.E.

"Still Home"

The Bennetts were enthusiastic over the additional educational facilities and extended curriculum now offered by NNC, but said, "It's still pretty much like home." The Bennetts graduated in 1948, received their appointment to Japan in January of 1952 and left the following November.

As they approached the islands, the ship's radio began broadcasting. "We couldn't understand a single syllable," they said. While docking they watched native laborers wearing raincoats of woven straw, working under very primitive conditions. "This gave us a wrong impression of Japan—but it was quickly changed." Both missionaries enthusiastically assured me that Japan is now a very modern country.

As they drove through the residential districts of the cities, Mrs. Bennett remembers noticing that high walls fenced in all the houses, closing off the yards from public view. My first impression when returning to America, she says, "was that Americans share the beauty of their yards."

Family

The Bennetts have three children now living in Milwaukie, Ore. Philip, 6 years old, was only 3 months old when they left the

DEADLINE FOR ALMA MATER SONG CONTEST TODAY

Today is the deadline for entries to be submitted for the alma mater song contest. This contest is sponsored by the student council, and is open to students and alumni.

A prize of $5 will be awarded to the individual or group submitting the best entry. Jerry Hull, ASB president, is head of the contest committee.

Six Home Ec'ers Attend Meet

Several home economics students will attend the Southwest Idaho Home Economics Association meeting at Boise tomorrow. Advisors Mrs. Florence Aller, Miss Eula Tombaugh, and Mrs. Pat Whitmarsh will accompany them.

Those attending are Joan Ogburn, Beverly Johnson, Anna Mae Bauerle, Janet Moore, Careta Hammond, and Marilyn Kelly.

MALE CHORUS SINGS ON TV

Male chorus, under the direction of Prof. Marvin Bloomquist, sang on KBOI-TV on March 11. The choir sang four numbers.

"Still, Still With Thee" arranged by Stowe and Gerrish, Bach's "Glory to God," "Let Thy Holy Presence" by Tschesnokoff, and Romberg's "Riff Song" were the numbers presented on the program.

Marshall Science Hears Dr. Stanford

Dr. Stanford is from the College of Idaho. He spoke on "Geology in Southern Idaho" with extensive use of charts and maps.

The date set for the Marshall Science group to travel to the Malheur Bird Refuge is April 24 according to Dale Orkney, president of the club.

United States; Michael, now 4, and the baby, Marilyn, 21 months, were both born in Japan. "The children would eat American hot dogs and hamburgers every meal if we'd let them," says Mrs. Bennett.

The two older children speak Japanese fluently but are trying to forget it—they want to be like American children. They think in Japanese and translate it into English. One day Philip, talking about the baby, said to his father, "Aren't you going to hang her up?" He meant to say, "Aren't you going to weigh her?" In Japan the Bennetts spoke English in their home; since they have returned, the oldest boy has "un-learned" many Japanese expressions in American schools.

Rev. and Mrs. Bennett are planning on sailing to Okinawa this summer. They leave this advice for prospective young missionaries: "Keep up right relationships with God and your fellowmen and keep in contact with the department of foreign missions. Today—right now—is living too; we weren't just created for the future."

Mayor Leupp Runs For Another Term; Unopposed

By GLENDA ANDERSON

Mayor Thomas Leupp of Nampa is running for re-election in a non-contested campaign. This political situation is considered highly unusual in that for the past 20 years Nampa has not had an election where there was no opposition for the incumbent.

"The past two-year term has been progressive," says Mayor Leupp, "with many things being accomplished." Among the outstanding accomplishments are the increase in the total amount of building permits resulting in more homes and businesses, the new street improvement program, and the renovation of the City Hall.

Probably the largest program undertaken is the off-street parking program. This has brought about the purchase of many lots and the removal of the buildings on Front Street to alleviate Nampa's parking condition.

Mayor Leupp is an alumnus of NNC, receiving his A.B. in Social Studies and Religion in 1945. He has been Dean of Students and professor of psychology in his service at NNC. He is still connected with NNC in that his wife, Mrs. Edythe Leupp, is a teacher in the Education Department.

The Leupps have four children—three girls and one boy.

Crusader Capers

By DICK ETULAIN

Horsehide hopefuls, 22 strong, turned out last Monday in the first official baseball gathering. Enthusiasm was high as Coach Elmore Vail directed the squad through a vigorous work-out before it was halted by rain.

Prospects for a good baseball team are certainly in sight, for with 13 returning lettermen—11 from last year and 2 from two years ago—each position seems to have at least one experienced person.

AVERAGES

Last year Etulain led the NNC nine with a .396 average. Other top hitters were Lauren Ellis, .350; John Wright, .300; and Ben Clouser, .298. Peppley, who will be out of action for over a month, hit nearly .370 in the 1957 season. Etulain also led the team RBI's and total hits.

As this writer predicted early last fall, the NNC team could prove to be a real baseball powerhouse. Facing a tough 17-game schedule, which includes defending Northwest Conference champion, C of I, the Crusaders will go all out to give NNC a strong spring sport.

HOPKINS LEADS ADP VICTORY

For the third consecutive year, the ADP's won the Hibbard-Long-Wesche basketball tournament, defeating the Spartans 40 to 38.

The game was close with the Spartans leading most of the game. Coming back strong in the fourth quarter, the ADP's tied the score with one minute remaining in the game. Then Mary Waller scored on a jump shot for the Spartans, but the basket was cancelled and a foul was called.

Martha Hopkins made the free throw giving the victory to the ADP's. Another free throw was added making the final score 40 to 38.

Top scorer for the evening was Martha Hopkins scoring all 40 points for the ADP's. Mary Waller made 32 points for the Spartans.

The SLA's beat the LSP's 30 to 19 in the consolation bracket.

TENNIS TEAM LADDERS FIXED

Tennis team ladders were established yesterday after the paper went to press. This year the women's team will consist of nine members instead of the customary seven.

Six returning women from last year are Dorothy Mittleider, Martha Hopkins, Mary Waller, Harriet Burkheimer, Minnie Humphrey, and Orrene Maurer. Also making the team are Carmen Gilmore and Ruth Watkins. Yet to be decided among Mary Lee Lester, Bonnie Crum, and Penny Lisk is the ninth position.

New prospects for the men's team include Art Zellmer, Cecil Sheppard, and Wally Steward. Miss Wanda Rhodes, coach, says that "this year's men's team should be a more all-round team and this should be a good year for tennis."

Down the Lane

By DICK ETULAIN

As the round sphere is put away for another year and the horsehide and thinclad take its place, let's review the past season. Although they faced their toughest schedule ever, the Crusaders compiled a very creditable 17 win-9 loss record. Five of those losses came by way of a four-point margin or less, and the most the Crusaders were defeated by was 12 points.

Of course the one-point defeat to C of I will remain foremost in our minds, but certainly the three out of four straight against tough teams like Westmont and Westminster should stand out on the positive side of the ledger.

(Incidentally, Westminster won its NAIA District to win a trip to Kansas City, and Westmont was chosen as one of the four California teams, along with Pasadena, to play off for the California NAIA District.)

OUTSTANDING SPIRIT

Certainly a major portion of the good record can be credited to an outstanding team spirit that prevailed among the players. After watching each of the four graduating seniors add his part to the team, I know their parts have been stabilizing in effect to the rest of the players.

A statement that I heard an individual make has made a remarkable impression on me. He said, "I'm glad the team didn't get to go to Kansas City or Montana." Knowing this individual and understanding what he meant, I surmise this: The decisions made affecting the team in the last revival are of more importance than a tournament would have been.

A boost for inter-collegiate athletics can certainly be seen in this example. Certainly a Christian team from a Christian college could be expected to uphold the standards which we so proudly bear; in our basketball team we have found evidence of this all year long. At Seattle Pacific the team showed an example of Christian sportsmanship; so was their example at the all-important C of I game a thing of beauty.

So the basketball season may be over, but the memories of your sportsmanship and decisions for Christ will be remembered.

Just a future thought: With Al Freeman at 6'7"; Gene Oberg, 6'7"; Bob Peppley, 6'2"; and Weldon Wood at 6'4", the NNC'ers should field a tall team again next year.

Basketball Contest Won By ADP's

By JIM FRANKLIN

Led by Ernie Thompson, the ADP's won the Mills-Cunningham intramural basketball tournament. Drawing a bye in the first round, they beat the Spartans by a 50-40 score. They then went on to trounce the LSP's 59-29.

The first game of the tournament was between the Oly's and Spartans. A game which was close from the opening tip-off ended in the Spartans' favor 37-36. Spartan George Harper was high-point man for the winners with 18. Elon Booker led the losers with 10.

The LSP-SLA game echoed the first game in closeness as the LSP's defeated the SLA's 54-53. Top scorers for the winners were Perry Winkle with 20 and Jerry Hull with 18. John Reed led the losers with 18 points.

OLY'S BEAT SLA'S

Oly men really put on a display of scoring ability as they brushed by the SLA's 93-40. They were led by Weldon Wood who scored 38 points. Dick Etulain and Orville Ewanson led the losers with 8 points each.

Drawing a first-round bye, the Athenians played the LSP's in the fifth game. The LSP's throttled them to the tune of 69-40. Winkle led the winners with 18. Jack Wright led the losing cause with 10 points.

In the championship game the outcome was fairly obvious early in the game. Ernie Thompson led the ADP's to victory over the LSP's by scoring 29 points which was as much as the whole losing team could arch through the hoop. Final score was 59-29.

WOMEN PICK ALL-STAR TEAM

Three women from the Spartan society were placed on this semester's all-star basketball team. They were Mary Waller, Carmen Gilmore and Ruth Watkins. Others selected for the team were Minnie Humphrey, SLA; Martha Hopkins, ADP; and Dorothy Mittleider, Athenian. Honorary mention went to Lois Gardner and Mary Lee Lester, Oly.

Top scorer for the semester was Martha Hopkins with a 41-point game average. Minnie Humphrey was next, averaging 31 points per game. Two Spartans, Mary Waller and Carmen Gilmore, averaged 29 and 22 points respectively.

Also leading in the free throw area was Martha Hopkins with a 77 per cent average. Close behind was Mary Waller making 66 per cent of all free throws attempted.

Thinclads Start Practice; Nine Lettermen Return

Pitching Prospects Polled For Season

By BEN CLOUSER

With the return of senior lettermen pitchers, Cec Campbell and Ben Clouser, and three hopefuls, Jerry Isaacson, Norman Hall, and Bill Tracy, the pitching should prove adequate for the season.

Cec Campbell, who three years ago had a 6-1 record and two years ago was sidelined with an arm injury, is in good shape and ready to throw. Cec says his arm doesn't hurt him and he's beginning to get his confidence back. He played first base and outfield last year.

Ben Clouser played the mound role for the first time last year after two years in the infield and came out with a 3-2 record. Last year he had control trouble but with a year's experience, he expects to have a good year. Of some significance was his batting average of .298.

The other three prospects are of more or less unknown qualities.

Jerry Isaacson pitched one season for the Western Decorators in the Portland National League. He won two and lost none. Jerry transferred to NNC from Clark Junior College in Vancouver, Wash., where he played third base.

Norman Hall pitched for Nampa High School and the Nampa Clippers. His record was unavailable. He is, however, the most experienced of the new pitchers.

Bill Tracy pitched some high school ball at Richland, Wash., before entering the service. He has played some semi-pro since then and should prove a valuable asset.

Coach Hills made the official call for tracksters on March 9. Returning lettermen include Don Ogburn, Larry and Jerry Hull, Dave Busenbark, George Harper, Marty Sharp, Al Freeman, Don Constable, and Dale Orkney.

Constable, Sharp, Harper and Marv Bressler hold school records. Constable holds the record in the 440, Sharp and Harper in the high jump, and Bressler in the javelin.

Constable won a trip to the NAIA nationals in San Diego last year but could not attend because of a conflict in his work schedule.

NNC's track meets will include their traditional foes of College of Idaho, Boise Junior College, and Eastern Oregon; the NNC Invitational; and the District 5 finals in Montana.

Four NNC Students Take Examination

Miss Wanda Rhodes, chairman of the Southwest Board of Officials, announced that a National Basketball Practical Rating examination was given last night at the NNC gymnasium.

Those taking the examination were Mary Waller, Carmen Gilmore, Dorothy Mittleider, and Martha Hopkins from NNC; Jackie Weinright, physical education instructor at Caldwell High School; and Jackie Bogan from the College of Idaho.

This is the first time that any NNC girl has qualified to take the practical examination. To qualify they had to pass a written basketball test. Those passing the practical exam will receive the National Basketball Officials Rating.

The examination was under the direction of Charlotte Silver. National judges were Madge Moon, Charlotte Silver, and Wanda Rhodes.
